CHICAGO, Sept. 9.—(UP)—The appeared while bound for a White House appointment in Chicago yesterday.

municated with his numerous is engaged upon some secret mission which he must pursue without knowledge of his presence in Chicago becoming known."

Searchers Heartened
The News continued that "A number of these friends are pursuing the search here, heartened by realizing that both the kidnab-ing and murder theories have proved unfounded."

"Col. Robins, missing since last Saturday, passed a friend of long standing at State and Adams street (in the heart of Chicago's loop district) early yesterday afternoon. This friend, who at that time had heard nothing of the mystery and search, did not address Col. Robins, as he appeared much preoccupied. However, recognition was definite."

25 MEN FIGHT FOR LIVES IN FOREST FIRE

Supervisor Nash-Bouldin is
With Party Trapped in Flaming Inferno
SANTA BARBARA, Cal., Sept. 9.
—(UP)—How a band of 25
fire fighters fought desperatly for their lives during the night while trapped in the furious blaze
now raging through the Santa Barbara National forest was told here today.

The group, headed by S. A.
Nash-Bouldin, supervisor of the forest, Warren Murphy, assistant supervisor and F. E. Cowles, of the American Green Cross, was caught when flames leaped 2000 feet over it in the Little North Fork of Matilija canyon.

For 12 hours the men lay prone in the warm waters of a small creek, dashing out at intervals to fight the flames as they approached seven automobiles used by the fighters.

Fight to Safety
At 4 a. m. today they managed to beat a path through the ever-on-rushing flames to safety, they reported to the National Forestry service office here.
The blazing fire, which is estimated to have burned more than 30,000 acres, was under control along a 14 mile front near Ojai.
At three other spots, it was raging unabated, destroying timber and brush in its path.

Flames Uncontrolled Forest rangers reported a four-mile front near Ortega Hill was raging uncontrolled. Fire fighters also reported they were unable to stem the flames along a two-mile front in Marietta canyon and along a two and a half mile section near Carpinteria creek.

Supervisor Nash-Bouldin estimated that damage caused to brush, timber and watersheds would run between $800 and $1500 an acre.

He ordered a 20 mile field telephone installed immediately to aid in directing the fight against the flames. Also a complete fire camp was ordered to Ojai to carry on the fight in that region.

TALLANT TUBBS IS STATE FAIR GUEST

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Sept. 9.—
(UP)—Tallant Tubbs of San Francisco was a guest at the California State fair today and was introduced to the grandstand as the Republican nominee for United States senator to succeed Senator Samuel M. Shortridge.

Tubbs came to Sacramento to confer with Republican leaders, and map plans for his forthcoming campaign.
He announced an intensive drive by his organization to bring out a mass vote of Republicans at the polls "together with those Democrats who believe as I do that unemployment relief and tax relief will follow modification of the Volstead act to permit light wines and beer and then repeal of the eighteenth amendment."

GOVERNORS OF 9 STATES IN FARM PARLEY

Executives Seek Program of Relief; Striking Farmers Picnic in Park
SIOUX CITY, Ia., Sept. 9.—(UP)— Governors or their representatives from nine middlewestern agricultural states conferred in a hotel room today, seeking a program of farm relief.

While the executives discussed relief programs, members of the Farmers Holiday association tramped through the streets to Riverside park for a picnic dinner before marching in a parade to impress the governors.

Although farm leaders had promised that 20,000 would march in the parade, only a fraction of that number was on hand during the forenoon.

Plan Formal Session
After an informal conference in the hotel room of Gov. Warren Green of South Dakota, the executives planned a formal session this afternoon.

Attending the conference at the invitation of Gov. Green were Governors Floyd E. Olson, of Minn-ota, George F. Shafer of North Dakota, and Dan W. Turner of Iowa.
Earl E. Hanford, secretary of agriculture of Ohio, represented that state; Thomas S. Allen, brother-in-law of Governor Ryan, came from Nebraska; E. E. Kennedy, of Kan-

THREE KILLED IN TRANSPORT PLANE CRASH

Fourth Passenger is Given
Chance to Live; Ship
Falls in Texas
SALT FLATS, Tex., Sept. 9.—
(UP)—Three men were dead today as a result of the crash of an American Airways transport airplane near here.

A fourth suffered severe burns and other injuries, but was given a chance for life.

The dead:
Pilot W. J. Robbins, Fort Worth.
Co-Pilot Francis Briggs, Dallas.
Victor E. Egan, St. Louis, a passenger.

The fourth occupant of the wrecked tri-motor ship, C. A. Davidson of Richmond, Calif., was thrown almost clear as the plane crashed near the foot of El Capitan Pass, in the Guadalupe mountains, and was able to beat out the flames
on his clothing.

He was taken to the home of a rancher near here, and a physician and a nurse were rushed here by plane from El Paso, 60 miles west, to care for him.

Pilot Ira McConaughy of the American Airways line found the crashed ship early today after an aerial search had resulted in sighting the wreckage. He led a searching party to the scene, assisted in taking Davidson to the rancher's

NEW FOREST FIRE BACK OF ALTADENA

PASADENA, Cal., Sept. 9.—(UP)— A forest fire which threatened to assume large proportions broke out shortly after 4 o'clock this morning in Millard canyon, just back of Altadena, in a district occupied by many cabins.

The blaze was reported to be burning briskly about half way between the Mt. Lowe incline and Mt. Lowe Tavern.

Supervisor William V. M. Men-dall of the Angeles national forest rushed a crew of men to the scene in the hope that the blaze could be controlled before destroying cabins.

The microphone was in the office of Dr. N. S. Houseman, Egan's
attorney.

BRIGHT SPOTS IN BUSINESS

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—(UP)— Business continues to gain and trade reports indicate far more optimism than a year ago, Bradstreet's weekly trade review said today.

New Manchu Government League Plan

TOKIO, Sept. 9.—(UP)—The league of nations Manchurian commission admits that return of the former status of Manchuria is impossible and suggests the creation of a separate, demilitarized government with China retaining nominal sovereignty, official quarters here understood today.

A government spokesman said impending recognition of the Manchukuo government by Japan made retention of Chinese sovereignty impossible. He said Japan probably would not accept most of the commission's conclusions.

It was understood that the commission, headed by Lord Lytton of England, rejected the possibility of Japanese annexation of the Manchurian territory or establishment of a protectorate over Man-chukuo. The commission was understood not to oppose Japanese advisors.

Other recommendations were understood to include a national Manchukuo police with foreign officers; insistence on maintenance of the open door policy and equal opportunity for all nations in trade with Manchuria; direct negotiations between China, Japan and Manchukuo with league of nations observers.

CLAIM POLICE OF S. F. HEARD MURDER PLOT

Newspaper Charges Officers Listened Over Dicta-phone to Egan Scheme

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Sept. 9.
—(UP)—The San Francisco
Examiner said today in a copyright story that police knew of the plot to murder Mrs. Jessie Scott Hughes, nine months before her broken body was found in a gutter near her home.

Frank J. Egan, ousted public defender of San Francisco, and Albert Tinnin, ex-convict friend of Egan, are scheduled to be sentenced to life imprisonment tomorrow for the elderly widow's murder. They were convicted by a superior court jury of the crime Tuesday.

"More than nine months before Mrs. Hughes was murdered, police listening on a dictaphone, heard Frank Egan plot the murder," the newspaper said it had learned.

"The microphone was in the office of Dr. N. S. Houseman, Egan's
attorney."

ficers who charged he defrauded

STEAMER CARRYING 150 WORKERS RIPPED TO BITS BY TERRIFIC EXPLOSION

Eyewitnesses Tell of Seeing Bodies Hurling Through Air After Mystery Blast Shatters Boat Taking Men to Prison Construction Job

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—(UP)—The river steamer Observation, loaded with more than 150 workmen, blew up in the East river off Manhattan island today.

This afternoon, 32 bodies of the 43 recovered had been identified and it was feared the death list would reach 60, which was the estimate of a Bronx priest who ministered to the dead and dying in Lincoln hospital.

The injured totaled more than 125. Lincoln hospital had 44 cases in bed, some of them dying, and treated 75 others for less serious injuries.

Launch Investigation
A fleet of boats and seaplanes assembled at the scene of the disaster to hunt for bodies. Police and fireboats formed a cordon while rescuers grappled for dead.
District Attorney Charles E. Mc-Laughlin of the Bronx said:
"Commissioner Mulrooney and I are investigating the disaster thoroughly and expect to solve the cause of the explosion."

Harrowing scenes occurred at the 135th street ferry terminal when the bodies were recovered from the river and laid out in rows for identification. Wives and mothers, who had seen their men depart a few hours earlier, glad to have a day's work on a prison construction job on Riker's Island, hastened to the pier to look for their dead.

Wives, Mothers Collapse
Several collapsed as they identified bodies. As each was identified a tag was wired to the wrist.
Some of the bodies were mutilated almost beyond identification.

The terrific explosion, which litterally ripped the steamer to bits, occurred just as the boat was leaving the pier to carry the laborers to their jobs on Riker's Island, a city penal colony.

Witnesses said the boat seemed to be lifted out of the water by the explosion. The decks shot up in the air and bodies of living and dead were strewn over the river.

Police fire boats, ferries, coast guard vessels and smaller craft quickly gathered to aid in the rescue work.

Was Old Boat
The wreck of the Observation sank immediately after the explosion, and only the scattered survivors and bits of debris marked the spot.

The Observation was an old boat, built in Brooklyn in 1888 and had been used as an excursion steamer between the Battery and the Rockaways on Long Island. Three years ago she was turned into a ferry to carry workers to the shipyards at Kearney, N. J.

P. L. Collins, second officer of the S. S. Freeman, who saw the explosion, told the United Press there was one terrific blast, like the roar of a big Bertha. He saw bodies hurtling in all directions, mingled with pieces of wreckage.
He launched a lifeboat and picked up four men, alive, but with broken bones. He saw other bodies being carried downstream by the tide.

NATIONWIDE SEARCH FOR COL. ROBINS

Roosevelt lead the Bull Moose party in their 1912 campaign, vanquished here Saturday after checking out of the City club. He had told friends he was going to see his old friend, President Hoover, whose re-election he was urging. The appointment was for Tuesday at the White House.

The vigorous, bitter, 55-year-old campaigner against all that he believed was wrong in the nation's political and moral life, had received hundreds of threats against his life. He received some only a month ago. He laughed them off.

Mrs. Robins said that the persistence of the threats had led the Colonel lately to prepare for disposition of his property in case of death. "It is something we have to face," she said he told her.

The missing man's wife, herself a prominent social worker, the former Margaret Dreier of Brooklyn, feared he was murdered. She elated threats he received because of his political activity near Brookville, Fla., their home, and the scene of several recent political or liquor killings.

The Colonel left their summer home at Southwest Harbor, Maine, she said, on August 30. He stayed with O. Levinson of Chicago at Kennebunk Beach the night of August 31, then came to New York. He was here Saturday when he conferred with several friends.

He said he expected to talk with Mr. Hoover about his own plans for a speaking tour of Maine and New England.

Robins checked out of his room at City club Saturday afternoon. He left his baggage in the check room. He told attendants he was leaving for a few minutes, would return, then leave for Washington where the Dodge Hotel would be his forwarding address. He walked out of the club, and never returned. Neither did he show up at the Dodge hotel.

An investigation of Robins' failure to keep his White House appointment was kept secret at first, but yesterday it was learned by the United Press that a search was under way.

Department of justice agents asked co-operation of the New York police in checking every known gangster hangout, and in checking hospitals and morgues.

The Colonel's political activity in Brookville, Fla., his friends here feared, might be responsible for his disappearance. He campaigned there as he did in Chicago—against what he thought were the "forces of corruption and bad government."

The violent deaths were reported in that county within recent months, all of which involved running or politicians, or the political campaign in which Robins participated.

RECOVER 43 VICTIMS OF SHIP BLAST

The cause of the explosion was not immediately determined. City officials, including Police Commissioner Edward P. Mulrooney, began a thorough investigation.

Witness Tells Story
George Urban of the Bronx who works in a lunch wagon near the 38th street terminal heard the explosion of the "Observation" today.

"I looked out—I saw things flying through the air," he said. "When they hit the water I saw they were men."

"Some of them were yelling. Some just floated. Some sank. I ran down to the dock and jumped into a boat. I pulled four men out of the water and rowed back to the dock."

"Then I helped some fellows launch a lifeboat from the municipal ferry Greenwich Village."

"We pulled in four more. One of them was dead. He was all torn to pieces, but we carried him in anyhow."

Terry Matreau, the Bronx, had planned to take the "Observation" to Rikers' Island this morning, but missed the boat by about a minute.

Bodies Hauled in Air
"I heard the sound," he said later. "Then it looked like the whole deck just went up in the air. Men flew through the air and smashed down on the river. Some of them fell near the dock. I went to help pull them in. When I looked up again the boat was gone."

"The boat was torn in two and the center was a fiery ball," he said. "I saw debris and bodies flying through the air. In a minute the water was churning with survivors fighting to keep to the surface and pieces of wreckage."

"One body flying through the air traveled 500 feet turning over and over and struck against the seventh floor window of the New York Edison building. It then dropped into the street. I saw another body somersault and land on the roof of the ferry house. Still another fell on the roof of the dock."

FAMOUS EXPLORER LEAVES FOR NORTH

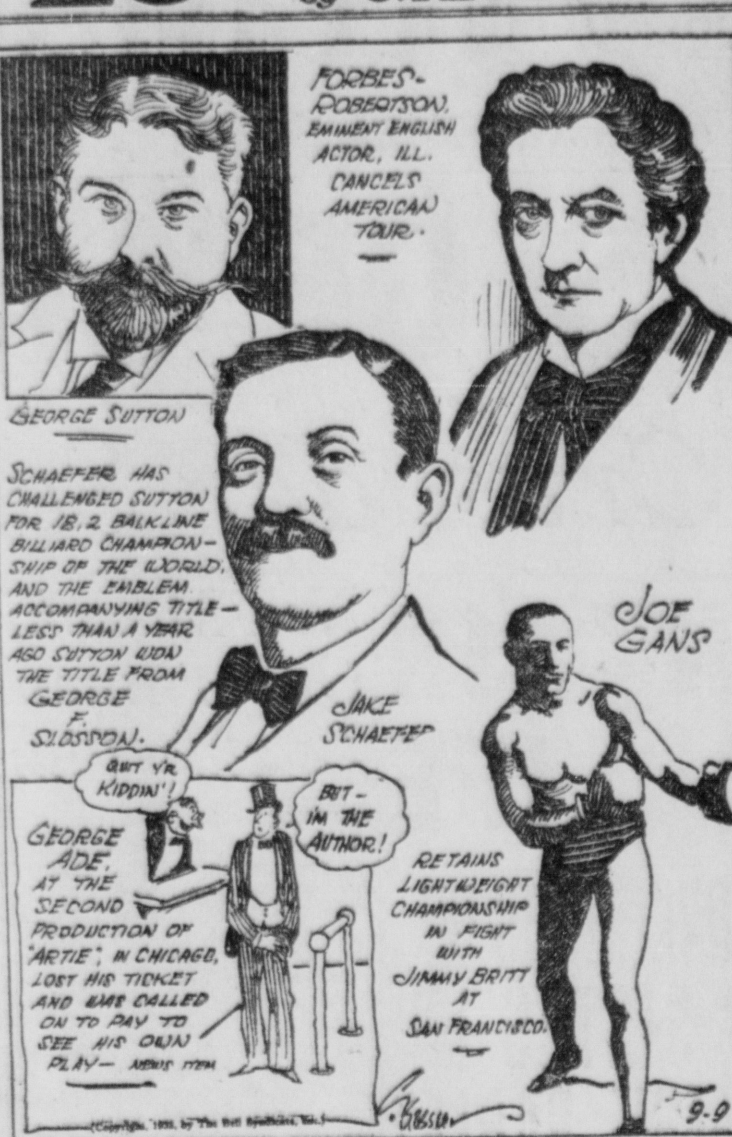

The Rev. Fr. Bernard Hubbard of Santa Clara university, geologist and explorer, whose Alaskan adventures won him recent prominence in newspapers all over the country and in the Saturday Evening Post, had returned north today following a visit of several days with C. J. Klatt, East Seventeenth street. Fr. Hubbard was a guest of the Klatts at their Newport Beach home during a part of his stay.

Mr. Klatt's son, Frank Klatt, now in his second year at the Harvard Graduate School of Business, accompanied Fr. Hubbard on his first expedition to Alaska three years ago, when the party visited the Valley of 10,000 Smokes.

Fr. Hubbard is to leave Santa Clara soon on a speaking tour which may bring him south again by January or February. Should the explorer be lecturing in Los Angeles at that date he has assured the Klatts that he will again visit Santa Ana.

OTHER WOMAN MISSING IN HARLOW CASE

said the titan-haired woman, hovering in the mysterious background of Bern's life story since his death, was assigned to state-room No. 304 on the top deck. She obtained her reservation through Jack Dooley, company secretary who quoted her as saying she was Dorothy Millette. Dooley said he gave her sailing instructions and told her how to board the boat, the Delta King. The ship departed at 6 p. m., and made only one stop, at Rio Vista, at 11:30 p. m. It docked at Sacramento at 6 a. m.

Staterooms were not inspected until three hours after the Delta King tied up. It was then discovered that the berth in No. 304 had not been occupied, although the woman's bags had been unpacked and there was a confusion of feminine articles about the compartment.

These included a coat with a New York firm's label and a pair of slippers purchased in San Francisco.

Steamship line officials told of the woman's presence aboard the Delta King after reading of Bern's suicide. The woman's description, coupled with her name, led them to believe she was the mysterious figure constantly linked with Bern.

All police agencies between here and Sacramento were notified today to search for her. Scrutiny of the bay and the river for possible traces of her body also was ordered.

Ray Maxwell, manager of the Plaza, said Miss Millette lived there for four months.

"She was reserved and secretive," he said. "I can't understand stories told of her 'derangement.' She seemed perfectly normal."

Previous reports, linking the woman's name with Bern's, was that she had been dumped more than 10 years ago, after assertedly living with Bern, and that the latter provided funds for her care in a sanitarium.

"She was a quiet, lonely little woman," Maxwell declared. "She was fairly attractive, though not a dazzling beauty. She registered here as 'D. Millette, New York City,' last May 4. She checked out hurriedly last Tuesday without leaving a forwarding address."

"She was never with anyone nor did she receive any letters. She never sat in the lobby or conversed with anyone but she did come and go frequently."

Maxwell said Miss Millette always seemed to have ample funds, was generous with her tips and paid cash for her meals and room.

He said hotel attaches were checking telephone records to ascertain whether the woman telephoned Hollywood prior to or after Bern's suicide.

Harlow Visited S. F.
"She was a mysterious figure—always clad in dark blue or black," Maxwell said. "Her auburn hair usually was concealed by a close-fitting turban."

It was recalled that Miss Harlow visited San Francisco about a month ago, shortly after her marriage to Bern. She was accompanied by her mother and stopped at the exclusive Mark Hopkins hotel which is not far distant from the plaza.

Police said it was possible she may have communicated with Miss Millette while here although there was nothing to confirm this.

Later today Capt. W. J. Atchae, master of the Delta King, told police that he found another pair of shoes and a pair of silk stockings along the stairway leading from Miss Millette's cabin to the main deck. He said he believed she may have leaped overboard nude.

BOXERS HOLD REUNION AT COUNTY JAIL

"Budge" Theo Lacy, Orange county jailer, is thinking about opening a gymnasium for incarcerated prize fighters, as they continue to trickle into the jail in greater numbers than ever during the past several days.

Two were added to the list in the last 24 hours and at least two others were there to greet them when they came in. All are former Delhi arena stars.

John W. (Mickey) Thomas, 25, was brought in by the Seal Beach police last night, charged with grand theft. Authorities reported he got drunk and stole an automobile.

Herman Piacentia, 22, of 927 East Pine street was lodged in jail last night by Piacentia officers on a disturbing the peace charge.

Other Delhi "luminaries" in jail here are Jimmy Rivers and Ned Hernandez.

lakes represented Illinois; Arvin C. Reis of Madison, represented Wisconsin and Ira Mitchell represented Oklahoma.

Gov. Olson, Minnesota Farmer-Laborite was most outspoken with his ideas. Olson said the farm strike, which now is in a truce pending outcome of today's conference, is a good thing because it advertised to the world the farmers' predicament.

Need Market Plan
"But what we need now," he said, "is intensive organization, through which a program of orderly marketing could be put into effect, thereby assuring the cost of production that striking farmers have demanded."

Gov. Green said its purpose is to "put the farm holiday movement on a practical basis with violence eliminated."

"We most emphatically do not favor any embargo on farm products, but we do hope that the conference can work out a plan whereby a voluntary holding movement can be made effective in an effort to boost the price of farm products."

Milo Reno, national president of the Farmers Holiday association, was enroute here for a conference of his executive committee tomorrow at which it will be decided whether the governors meeting today was productive of satisfactory results.

JAM, JELLY DRIVE CLOSING TOMORROW

A fine response to the request for jelly, jam and canned fruits for the veterans confined to the Veterans' hospital at San Fernando was reported today by Mrs. Edna Eklund, who is in charge of the committee of the Legion auxiliary which is handling the matter.

Tomorrow is the last day of the annual drive made by Santa Ana Legion women for the home delicacies for the sick veterans. Persons who have contributions to make are asked to bring them to the Legion hall on North Birch street, or to phone 2700.

The supplies are to be taken to the hospital Sunday morning.

Police News

Mrs. E. L. Limon, of 928 Fairview avenue, reported to the police that three sacks of walnuts were stolen from her place last night.

Charged with being drunk, Ned Hipsley, 73, Buena Park man, was arrested by Under Sheriff C. W. Riggle and Deputy Sheriff Earl Nickles last night. The man was booked at the county jail and later released on order of Officer Riggle.

RETURNS TO S. A.
Bert Sutton, district manager of the Southern Service company, and former member of the Santa Ana city council, who has been residing for the past two years in Long Beach, has moved back to Santa Ana and will reside here in the future. He and his family are living at 803 Oak street.

"Lady Bum" Guest At County Jail

She's 18 years old and she's the first "lady bum" to be a guest of the Orange county jail in a long, long time.

She strolled into the Santa Ana police station last night, looking for a place to sleep. Sergeant C. L. Neuwanger sent her to the county jail and Mrs. Theo Lacy, matron, took charge of her for the night.

The girl is Rose Skovoth, and she hails from Wisconsin. Yes, she has been on the "bum" for several months, but she told Mrs. Lacy she was getting tired of it, and she was beating her way back to her home.

"It's a tough life," she said.

NIGHT CLASSES OPEN WEEK OF SEPTEMBER 25

Evening classes at the high school will open this year the week of September 25, it was announced today by Mrs. Golden Weston, director of adult education.

Monday and Tuesday evening programs will be in the junior college building at Walnut and Ross streets, Wednesday evening the program will be in the Lathrop Junior High school at 1120 South Main and Thursday evening the classes will be held in the Willard Junior High school at the corner of Washington and North Ross streets.

All evening classes will be held as usual, from 7 to 9 p. m. More detailed announcements will be made by Mrs. Weston later.

Reduction of the budget for adult education has necessitated a considerable curtailment of the evening high school program, Mrs. Weston said. By a careful study of last year's attendance records, a tentative program is being worked out which will include those subjects which seem to render the greatest service.

New state regulations require an evening high school to be in session eight months of the school year and at least four nights a week. It is felt that one evening high school will meet the needs of Santa Ana under the new conditions, according to Mrs. Weston.

Davidson, McConaughy said, was found two miles from the wreckage, sitting down where he apparently had become exhausted. Extent of his injuries was not at once determined.

Bodies of the other three men were to be brought here later today.

The plane, eastbound, left El Paso at 9 a. m. yesterday, carrying passengers and mail. It headed east over the Guadalupe mountain, in somewhat threatening weather.

Cause of the crash was not at once discernible, McConaughy said on his return from the scene.

HELD FOR OFFICERS

Edward L. Putnam, 37, of 305 West First street, Santa Ana, completed a 30 day jail term in the county jail today on a charge of assault and battery, but he didn't get out of jail.

There was a hold there for him from the Los Angeles police department where he is wanted for violation of parole, according to jailors.

A WORD OF COMFORT

Let no one seize your love, your faith and your expectations, and drag them down to the level of the commonplace. They are your very life; without them your existence would be meaningless and sordid. Hold them sacred and secure; let them light your path so that the sweetness of life may be revealed along with its hard, wet hours; rejoice that you know that honest endeavor is worth what it costs and that eternity is sure.

$677 BALANCE REPORTED FOR FUND OF CLUB

After feeding approximately 200 children a day during the summer, Mrs. Edith Ritter, who had charge of the meals served at Lathrop school, today reported a balance of $677.92 to the fast club committee which had charge of the $1800 fund which was raised by the club last April in a benefit show.

Mrs. Ritter made a detailed report of how the undernourished children had been fed, at a special meeting of the Breakfast club committee held in the office of Guy Gilbert, chairman, this morning. Other members of the committee are Barney G. Koster, Eugene Kahan, John Knox and Bruce Switzer.

The balance which was reported to the committee will be used for further work among underprivileged children this fall. The committee extended Mrs. Ritter sincere thanks for the efficient manner in which the fund and the task of feeding the children had been handled.

Dr. George A. Warner of the Citizens' Emergency committee and A. B. Cline of the Unemployment association of Santa Ana, were present at the meeting. Dr. Warner told of the work being done by the two groups in co-operation, and stated that $150 of the money would go a long way towards making it possible for needy children to start school with proper shoes and clothing, who otherwise would be embarrassed.

Many children are in dire need of shoes and clothing, Dr. Warner declared. Following a discussion, the committee voted to turn over to Frank A. Henderson, school superintendent, $177.92 to be used in this work. The balance of $500 in the Breakfast club fund will be used for feeding undernourished children during the present school term.

About 15,000 meals were served from the funds provided by the club. The Junior Breakfast club at the Lathrop school has been closed. Prior to vacation the children were aided by funds from teachers of the various city schools.

CHILDREN EXPRESS THANKS IN RESOLUTION

A resolution passed by the Junior Breakfast club, expressed appreciation to the Breakfast club for sponsoring the furnishing of meals to children during the summer months and to Mrs. Edith Ritter for her services in taking charge of the meals. The resolution was signed by Rosie Segura, president, Ruby McIntyre, vice president and Carl Nelson, secretary.

Following is the resolution, in full:

"Be it hereby resolved: That: the Junior Breakfast club express their sincere appreciation to the Senior Breakfast club for sponsoring the furnishing of lunches during the summer months.

"That: the club members and their parents appreciate the interest and valuable services rendered by Mrs. Edith Ritter, who made a complete sacrifice of her summer vacation.

"That: the members of the Senior club committee have given us much of their valuable time and assistance in the past and that they may be of service to you at some time.

"That: the Santa Ana Board of Education receive our appreciation for the use of Lathrop cafeteria and its equipment.

"Lastly: the members of our Junior club and their parents will always remember the great help given them by the Senior Breakfast club of Santa Ana."

DEATH CALLS GEN. SHERMAN AT BAY HOME

Gen. M. H. Sherman, 78, director of 35 corporations in Los Angeles, and widely known as a railroad builder and developer, died at 3:30 o'clock this morning at his home on Bay island following an illness of several months.

General Sherman had made his home on Bay island for the past four years. He was the owner of the "Lucy," anchored in Newport harbor.

H. L. Sherman, well known Newport Beach civic worker, is a cousin of General Sherman. H. L. Sherman is now at Tahiti.

The body was removed to a funeral establishment in Los Angeles.

Gen. Sherman fostered the development of Los Angeles in the early days of its great growth, was engaged in extending railroad lines to surrounding communities, and led in the subdivision and naming of Hollywood.

Never losing faith in the future of the city, his work obtained capital for necessary enterprises in San Francisco and the east in the early, struggling days of the young metropolis.

General Sherman came from New England, where he was born, to Prescott, Ariz., when 20 years old. There he taught school for three years, until 1875, when he was selected to represent Arizona at the Centennial exposition in Philadelphia, and on his return was made state superintendent of public instruction.

He rewrote the school laws of the then territory and organized the public school system. His next service for Arizona was as assistant-general of the territory, and as such he organized the National Guard as he had perfected the school system.

He established the Valley Bank of Phoenix and was its first president. His first experience in railroad building was as constructor of the Phoenix railway, which he extended to Glendale, Ariz., to connect with the Santa Fe.

His experience in that work led him to undertake development of an electric transportation system in Los Angeles after he visited that city in 1889 and observed the then expensive and unreliable service.

There followed a career which aided the growth and grew with Los Angeles and Southern California. His railroad lines made possible development of Hollywood and beach cities from Santa Monica to Redondo.

The arrest was made by Officers H. E. Holmes and A. L. Steward.

H. S. Registration Reaches 783 Today

Seven hundred and eighty-three students by noon today had completed registration for classes at Santa Ana high school, according to Lynn H. Crawford, who is in charge.

There were 1054 students at the opening of school doors last fall, and approximately the same number will be ready for instruction next Monday, Crawford believes. Although regular registration of sophomore, junior and senior classes was to have been closed this afternoon, it is expected that several out-of-town students reporting next week will send the enrollment well past the 1000 mark.

TROUBLESOME MISS

JACKSONVILLE, Fla.—A young woman made it rather hot for police officials here when she was transferred from the county detention house to a chair through a window and tried to escape. Then, after she had been taken to the city jail, she turned on a water spigot and almost flooded the jail. They took her to the county jail for safe keeping, and when Jailer Jim Copeland came after her, she tore the shirt from his back. She was held for a sanity examination.

COUNTY W. C. T. U. CONVENTION OPENS; SAVING WRIGHT ACT AT POLLS HELD AS OBJECTIVE

With "The Campaign for the Wright Law" as her theme, Mrs. Hattie C. Young of Los Angeles, state recording secretary, of the W. C. T. U., delivered a stirring message yesterday afternoon at the forty-third annual convention of the Orange county W. C. T. U., in the First Presbyterian church in Tustin. In part, Mrs. Young said:

"The campaign to save these people of weaker moral constitution. Wright law is our big job. We should vote 'No' on No. 1 and No. 2 on the November ballot. We have such an avalanche of wet sentiment because the vote have advertised. We need to advertise."

The speaker displayed various forms of dry literature, and posters which she urged the W. C. T. U. members to use and distribute.

An interesting interval followed when Mrs. Young read and answered questions contained in the question box. The majority of the questions were in regard to who to vote for for United States president and United States senator. Mrs. Young said that in regard to president, one would need to choose the lesser of two evils and that she preferred Hoover to Roosevelt. Mrs. Young stated she felt we should stand by President Hoover because he would save prohibition.

Many women present took part in the discussion, several stating that they intended to vote the prohibition ticket for president.

Only 51 per cent of the people voted at the primary in California that were eligible to vote, Mrs. Young stated, adding that this is a crucial time and all should be sure to vote in November. She suggested that the drys use their common sense and analyze the situation before voting for president.

Proceeding Mrs. Young's talk, was an organ number by Mrs. R. E. Carswell; two vocal solos by Miss Marjory Rawlings, accompanied by Mrs. Carswell; reports by several county presidents; impressive memorial services conducted by Mrs. T. H. Walker, county evangelist, directed, and a short message by Mrs. Cora Hale, county president, who gave an interesting outline of her many duties and activities, and urged all to stand firm for the dry cause.

The convention was opened at 10 a. m. by the county president, Mrs. Cora Hale. Following a devotional service conducted by Mrs. T. H. Walker and roll call, Mrs. Margaret Utt gave an address of "Welcome" and Mrs. Estelle Harper responded. Annual reports were given by Mrs. Elizabeth Warren, recording secretary; Mrs. Sarah M. G. Brown, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Alma J. Kellogg, treasurer; Mrs. Elizabeth Miller, auditor, and Mrs. Venna Anderson, director of Loyal Temperance Legion work.

Mrs. Hattie C. Young again held the undivided attention of her audience at last night's session of the convention when she gave an address on "Ballots Versus Bunkum," and answered some of the arguments of the wets. She stressed that legalization of beer will not increase employment and stated that drinking has not increased under prohibition. In part, she said:

"The philosophy of prohibition is built upon three principles. First, the desire for alcohol is acquired, not natural. Second, the way to control anything is at its source. Third, you cannot trust people who make a business of pandering to human weakness. The movement against prohibition is just a contest between the old world and the new; it's a contest between European traditions and American traditions."

"Once upon a time there was a man named Roosevelt in the White House who, as the result of experience with the liquor traffic, said that the American people must defeat the liquor traffic or the liquor traffic would defeat the American people. Later, during the World war the liquor traffic attempted such defeat by threatening of his war plans if in any way the liquor traffic was curtailed. That final treacherous impudence caused the American people to outlaw the liquor traffic by the eighteenth amendment. "For a dozen years liquor has acted the part of an outlaw, running its business illicitly, refusing to obey, making threats and spreading lies. All this has scarred people of weaker moral constitution. The liquor traffic has always supported the policies of bad government; it was the corner stone of much of the evil President Roosevelt exposed, opposed and defeated."

"The drive against prohibition is supported in practical political manner by racketeering politicians who derive support from liquor interests, legal or illegal. The cry for state rights is accompanied by a strong effort to remove state prohibition laws; a situation which always creates happy hunting ground for bootleggers, and gives control of state politics and state government to the lower order."

"Governor Roosevelt makes much of the promise of a liquor-soaked nation without saloons. Liquor, no matter how sold, has a universal and uniform debauching effect. However, the liquor business wants and will have saloons in case of repeal. Right now, according to newspaper advice, liquor people are taking options on property they hope to turn into saloons."

"Once the liquor business is back on its feet, paying a license to the government for the right to debauch and enslave, it will take its place beside big business and be a hideous, omnivorous, but legitimate portion of our national activities."

Other numbers on last evening's program were a reading by Miss Marian Leiby; organ recital by Mrs. J. Stuart Hydanus, and several spiritual number by the Rev. and Mrs. Hydanus, accompanied on the harp by Mrs. Hydanus.

Mrs. Viola Norman, now of Monrovia but formerly of Santa Ana, and a former president of the Orange County W. C. T. U., was a special guest at yesterday's meetings.

The convention closes today.

$25,000 PAID BY BANK AT NEWPORT

Payment of a dividend of 20 per cent on deposits of the First National bank of Newport Beach started yesterday under the direction of C. E. Wallis, receiver. The amount to be paid totals approximately $25,000.

The money represents a fund secured in the liquidation of the bank coupled with a loan secured from the Reconstruction Finance corporation.

The R. F. C. loan must be repaid before any other dividends are made, the loan being a lien on the remaining assets of the banking institution.

The Newport bank closed its doors on January 21 after a run which started when other banks of the district had closed their doors. It is the first payment made by this institution.

FORCES UNITE IN THIRD DISTRICT TO SUPPORT LYON FOR SUPERVISOR

Solidly backing LeRoy E. Lyon as candidate for supervisor from the third district, three of the defeated candidates for nomination for supervisor who ran with Lyon against the incumbent, William Schumacher, have sent Lyon letters of congratulation and pledges of support for the coming election in November.

The following letter was sent to Lyon from W. J. Carmichael: "The first skirmish of the people's battle against political control of the newspapers of northern Orange county and the tyrannical political machine has been gloriously won."

Become Standard Bearer "You now become the standard-bearer of a group of Americans who demand a decided relief from the excessive taxation, coercion of the county employed laboring men, expenditure of public funds for personal political preferment, political promises unfulfilled, secret supervisory huddles where the people's money is legislated to the favored few within the ring—those newspapers which are a part of the political group, and are in my mind no longer a community asset, but financially controlled sheets having the dollar mark rather than the people's interests paramount in their endeavors."

Your pledge to open administration of public business has assured your election as supervisor in November—indicated by our combined vote of 6727 to 4900.

"The story has been told, and I now offer you my fullest support and ask that my friends continue the battle for better and more representative government. So, carry on for good government and the people."

John Kellenger Jr. wrote to Lyon as follows: "Please allow me to congratulate you on the fine vote that you received in the primaries. I believe that you will be elected in November, and I will personally give you all the assistance that is in my power."

Reasons for Support "I am going to support you. "1. Because the newspapers have a strangle hold on this district and, by agreement between them, will not even be fair with any candidate who runs for office unless he bows to their will. The voters should choose the officials, not the newspapers."

"2. Because I am opposed to public money being used to pay personal political debts and to clean up the 'frozen assets' of the powerful financial interests in the county as was done in the purchase of St. Ann's inn."

"3. Because I want to stop the building of special and costly roads for sub-dividers and a few wealthy mansion owners in return for votes and influence."

"4. Because I believe that county employees are paid to work and not to use county cars and county gasoline and county time to solicit votes for present office holders who seek to perpetuate 'machine control.'"

"5. Because you can't teach an old dog new tricks, and new officials are needed to break up the present costly political alliances in this county, which are forcing us to pay excessive costs of government."

"You stand firmly for these things, and for that reason I feel it a privilege to wholeheartedly endorse your candidacy so that you will be able to carry on the victory in the November election."

The following communication was addressed to Lyon from Herbert H. Oelke:

Confident of Victory "Let me congratulate you on your splendid victory in the recent primaries. The results clearly show that the public is tired of the political ring that has dominated our affairs for the past 20 years. I am confident that the voters will go to the polls November 8 and give you an overwhelming majority over the candidate being backed by the present administration."

"You can certainly depend on my wholehearted support in the coming election, and may be sure I will do everything in my power to put you across the finish line, well ahead and victorious."

"With best wishes and good luck for a successful campaign, because I believe you are the man for the job and that your platform conforms to mine in every respect."

Wrong Name Used In Statement On Prorata Agreement

Representatives of the Randolph Marketing company indicated that they would sign a new prorata agreement for citrus shipments if the Mutual Orange Distributors and the California Fruit Exchange signed. It was made known at a meeting of the prorata committee held in the Farm Bureau office yesterday. It was erroneously announced by Farm Bureau officials that the American Fruit Growers association representatives declared themselves willing to enter the scheme under the above named circumstances, while it was the Randolph Marketing company.

CONTRASTS IN MUSIC TO BE KREG FEATURE

Greater contrast in worth-while programs would be difficult to find at any place on the dial tonight than the group of programs offered by KREG. At 6 o'clock, Agnes Gonzalez, pianist-composer, offers a variety in his own presentation of popular, modernistic and semi-classic selections.

At 9 o'clock the usual Spanish program, featuring some of the best Mexican artists in the southland will be broadcast and will be followed by the usual all request program, under direction of John Lewis. This feature is becoming more popular with each presentation.

Two feature programs earlier in the evening will be broadcasts of news and feature events.

FACES SECOND MURDER CHARGE IN COURT HERE

An information will be filed charging murder against Porfirio Lopez, former Westminister Mexican, in superior court here Monday—but it will not be a new experience for Lopez, who once before was charged with killing a man, it was learned today.

On September 12, 1926, Lopez is alleged to have attacked one Leonisio Guerrero, also of Westminister, with a knife, killing him.

C. E. Jackson was sheriff of Orange county at that time. Jackson got out a circular asking for the arrest of the man. This circular finally found its way to Sacramento, where it was placed on file and a few days ago, Ogden, Utah police learned of the circular when they had Lopez in jail in their city on a vagrancy charge.

The sheriff's office was notified. Herman Zabel, finger print expert, got busy, and while the sheriff was making arrangements to have Lopez returned here for the murder of Guerrero, Zabel made a startling discovery. Fingerprints told him that this Lopez was the same Lopez arrested in Los Angeles in 1916 charged with murder.

The records show that he managed to have the charge reduced to manslaughter, but that he was sentenced to Folsom prison and served there from March 15, 1916, to April 26, 1920, when he was discharged on a parole granted on December 1, 1919.

So murder charges will not be new for Lopez.

The sheriff's office has been working hard on the case and is confident that it will be able, through evidence, submitted to convict Lopez for the Guerrero murder. Then, there is a feeling around the jail that Lopez will plead guilty to the charge.

WASHINGTON

FREIGHT

Those six extra grey hairs you see in War Secretary Hurley's head were caused by the inland waterways report.

Hurley tried to prevent its publication because it recommended that the barge lines organize themselves to fight the railroads. The advisory board which wrote it neglected to tell Hurley of its issuance.

He heard about it from newspapermen after they had it for half an hour. Hurley ordered it immediately killed. He could readily visualize what effect it would have in a campaign year.

The result was some papers printed the report. Enough did to cause plenty of embarrassment.

The fray started when the I. C. C. aroused the barge lines by cutting rail rates. The new rail cotton rate is almost down to the level of the barge lines. It is 25 cents per 100 pounds from New Orleans to Memphis. This is five cents more than the barge lines and one-third of the old rail rate.

The barge lines cannot meet that kind of competition. Many are operated by the government.

The situation is complicated by the fact that the R. F. C. is helping to finance the railroads.

The government cannot decide, clearly which side it is on.

FRACAS

Some strong undercover efforts have been directed toward inducing Vice President Curtis to become suddenly ill next week.

Weak hearts are fearing what will happen when the dry Kansas goes into the wet lions' den at the Poppleville, Pa., Republican state rally. They say Wet Lion Vane of Philadelphia is preparing to tear him limb from limb. A resolution may be offered proposing repeal of the Eighteenth amendment before Curtis speaks.

Curtis says his health was never better. He likes the kind of situation and is preparing for the fray.

In 1928 he shushed an Iowa heckler by blurring out: "You're just too damned dumb to understand."

The Fogelsville difficulties are of Curtis' own making. Cautious counselors advised and even warned him to stay out of the wet East after his dry acceptance speech. He won the inside argument about that and accepted the Fogelsville engagement.

The Republican high command is trying to arrange that the meeting be peaceful.

However the Democrats probably will be unkind enough to see that someone present asks Curtis: "How about prohibition?"

It ought to be a lively party.

QUERY

Gov. Franklin Roosevelt apparently got mixed in his search for a solution of the farm problem.

He wrote letters to farm experts whose names were suggested to him. One was received by a Washington newspaper correspondent who is an ardent supporter of the farm problem have already been given to Mr. Hoover.

PEACE

Gov. Meyer of the Federal Reserve has been privately making peace with Senator Glass, the banking force in Congress. That may mean that Meyer will get through his unified banking ideas at the next session of Congress.

Rumors that Meyer will retire because of his inside differences with Mills and Mr. Hoover are flights of imagination. He will not quit voluntarily until his unified banking scheme is in effect. It is his hobby.

TREASURES

Over-subscription of the Treasury's new financing project will not mean anything. The banks are as usual asking for twice as much as they desire to take.

The financing was arranged in the way the banks wanted it. Treasury Secretary Mills fixed it up in his very competent fashion before the announcement was made. None of the banks desire much long term paper at this time.

CHAGO

Assistant Secretary of State Francis Whitte disappeared early in the week when the Chaco dispute got too hot.

The state department announced it had no idea where he was. They knew. He was fishing near Baltimore.

He pulled the Montague Norman trick because the Bolivians were looking for him. The Paraguayans were considering a resolution for a declaration of war.

Private information at the department was that the war resolution was a bluff. War was not expected to be declared.

NOTES

There is an important story in that Mexican presidential election. The new president Rodriguez is a dummy for strong-arm Calles.

That means the old opposition is on the run. The era of peace in Mexico will probably continue indefinitely. A few years ago they used to have a revolution each week.

The slight improvement in silver prices may help world trade before long. The understanding is that Interior Secretary Wilbur will return to the presidency of Stanford University next March 4 whether or not Mr. Hoover is re-elected. The most optimistic political report Mr. Hoover has received recently was given by Wilbur after a western trip.

His philosophy of office is: "I get chased out here I can go back to Stanford and if I get chased out there I can practice medicine and the same people who chase me out will be the first to call me when they are sick." That is a happier outlook than most cabinet members have.

NEW YORK

By James McMullin

MAYORALTY

A significant bubble in the seething kettle of city politics is the manner in which the press has handled the views of organization leaders. Opinions—or lack of them—about a vindication run for Walker are emanating from Boss Curry of Manhattan, Boss McCooey of Brooklyn and Boss Flynn of the Bronx—not from Tammany as a whole. This would have been impossible when Croke or Murphy was running the show and would have been unlikely even in the reign of Olvany.

It means that there is a stirring in the ranks and that Curry cannot command unquestioned obedience as his predecessors did. Brooklyn has the votes and Manhattan cannot play a dictator's role any longer.

A split must be avoided or Tammany will lose power and prestige. Experienced observers state it can only be healed by elimination of the bone of contention. The betting is that Walker will not run for mayor again this fall or ever.

McKee has made an excellent impression on the local public and will probably be permitted to fill out Walker's unexpected term. He has shown signs of being willing to play ball with the organization. His insistence upon designating himself as "Acting Mayor" and his expression of regret at the circumstances which gave him the job fitted in nicely with the plans of those who have party harmony at heart.

Talk that Tammany will oust Jim Farley from his post as chairman of the New York State Democratic Committee is so much hot air. There may be gestures to soothe Walker's wounded pride but Curry is hardly likely to take a step that might mean political suicide out of sentimental regard for the boy-friend.

The financial district would like to see former Collector of the Port Frank Polk in the mayor's office but the odds are about a thousand to one against such a development. The Citizens' Budget Commission is hopeful that its economic program will get somewhere with McKee. He knows the powers of his new office and is not the type of man to be bluffed.

CONSTRUCTION

New York hears that an R. F. C. loan for alum rehabilitation here and in other cities will not be delayed much longer. Decisions may be made within the next two weeks. Senator Wagner has been especially active in behalf of this part of the relief program. Inactivity toward his own baby might have soured some Grade A milk now set for political skimming.

ECONOMY LEAGUE

The National Economy League is having rough steering in building up its membership. A special appeal has been made for the moral and financial support of large corporations. People who were glad to sign a petition that cost them nothing are balky at a membership fee. Strong financial sources have provided funds to date but do not intend to hold the bag indefinitely.

ADVERTISING

English newspaper publishers are interested in the effect of rising stock prices on the volume of advertising in this country. One of the important English papers recently made an inquiry on the subject by transatlantic telephone. They know what a barometer of basic conditions lineage is apt to be.

Several large food and drug corporations have food by experience that the sales of advertised branded goods are holding up better than those of bulk goods. One of the food companies had larger tonnage shipments of branded goods in August this year than it did in the same month last year—while bulk sales panes are now convinced that the public is not going to revert to the habit of "buying out of the cracker barrel" and are planning their immediate advertising policies accordingly.

SAYS HARM OF BOOZE MUST BE TOLD TO YOUNG

FULLERTON, Sept. 8.—One of the greatest needs of present time to insure the future welfare of the country is to train young people in the dangers of alcoholic drink and those people of the community who have the welfare of the community and the nation at large at heart will see to it the young people are given this information. Dr. George Warner, pastor of the First Methodist church of Santa Ana, told a large group of women of the Missionary society of the Fullerton church yesterday afternoon at their first fall meeting.

Dr. Warner called attention to the fact that the state law of California not only permits but demands that the harms of the use of alcoholic drinks be taught to youth and he urged that public spirited citizens make sure that that instruction is being given, and said that at the present time, Vierling Kuesey, state superintendent of public instruction, has ready for use a text book on the subject.

There are many things to do to change present conditions of government, the speaker said, and chief among them are the training of youth in law enforcement and the placing honest men in office.

This latter course is open to the voters, he said, in November, and he asked particularly that good men, working for law enforcement, be placed in the congressional and state legislative positions.

Preceding the talk, Mrs. S. W. Winkle presided at the business session. Mrs. Elvina Robinson had charge of the devotional service.

Mrs. S. W. Douglas and Mrs. S. W. McCulloch were hostesses at the covered dish luncheon that was served at noon.

CAMPAIN FOR H. B. TIDELANDS DRILLING BILL

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Sept. 9.—The Huntington Beach Improvement association has opened headquarters at 116 Main street in the store building formerly occupied by the Jack Robinson Men's store.

The association will carry on from the headquarters here a state wide campaign to promote the success of the tideland grant to the city. Roy White is in charge of the headquarters here.

The first announcement from the local headquarters posted in the window over the signature of Roy Maggart, vice president, was the statement that Huntington Beach labor will be employed exclusively on the tideland oil drilling project.

The tideland have been leased to the Pacific Exploration company, which proposes to develop the proven oil area from Seventeenth street to the west city limits.

The city is asking the voters of California to grant the tidelands to Huntington Beach, which is said to be the only city in the state that does not own its tidelands. Last year the state legislature passed a bill granting the city its tidelands and Governor Rolph vetoed the bill, or at least refused to sign it and let it lay on the table until it was a dead issue.

A hearing before the governor was held at which oil corporations opposed the tideland grant and 200 citizens of Huntington Beach urged the governor to sign it.

ASK BOARDS TO FAVOR ORANGE COUNTY FIRMS

NEWPORT BEACH, Sept. 9.—Directors of the Newport Harbor Chamber of Commerce last night at the city hall passed a resolution to urge on all school superintendents, purchasing agents, principals and boards to buy supplies in Orange county wherever prices and service here meet those "from outside the county, or even to show preference to Orange county firms, in cases where such a course is feasible.

This action followed the reading of a letter from the Anaheim Chamber of Commerce, enclosing a similar resolution passed by that body, in which it was pointed out that school taxes are the largest single item of taxation in the county and that county firms should be given preference if possible, and at least equal opportunity with those outside.

The directors adopted a recommendation of the legislative committee, headed by Lew Wallace, in regard to certain taxation proposals now before the State Chamber of Commerce. One of these favors a two-thirds vote on bond issues and the local body favors it if it actually includes all bond issues of every class, not otherwise.

Another proposal is to consolidate elementary school districts, either into a county group or into existing high school districts. As this would not necessarily lower school taxation, and might in many cases even increase it, and as it has other bad features, the directors expressed opposition to it.

There was a discussion of the proposed constitutional amendment to shift school taxes, which will be on the November ballot. The legislative committee did not make a recommendation, asking for further time to study it, and the directors appeared to be divided on it, so no action was taken, but speakers on both sides may be invited to a future meeting.

It was decided to make the rough-water swim, held last Labor day, an annual event, but the date and course may be changed.

At the suggestion of Ralph Maskey the city council will be asked to plant trees on Coast boulevard at the western entrance to the city.

He dropped dead while watching the game at Westminster and a doctor's assistance was summoned immediately, and the pulmotor crew from Long Beach worked over the body for some time, efforts to revive him were futile.

The survivors are his wife, Blanche, a son, Louis and a daughter, Bernice, of Garden Grove, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kuhn, and three brothers and three sisters, Mrs. Marie Andrade, Ventura, formerly of Anaheim; Mrs. John Knapp, Redondo; and Josephine Kuhn, at the parents' home, and Charles E. 'SPAGHETTI SHIFT' FOR DONS

Reboin Touts Trojan Frosh, Early Jaysee Rival
RAILBIRDS LIKE BILL BOULDIN

Ten new candidates were on Bouldin, backfield stars from Santa Ana junior college's football roster today, the increase making a total of 43 prospects, slightly more than half the number Coach Bill Cook definitely expects to start work with Monday.

Within the 1932 camp things are not at a standstill, despite the short delay in attendance which the Don mentor is experiencing on account of "Freshman Week."

Dean Benton and Bruce Handy, Tustin Hi graduates, scratched their names off the missing list, checked out suits along with Dick Heifron, former Anaheim player who enrolled here last year; Bob Burchfield, Garden Grove line-man; Raymond Hoar, center and guard from El Monte; Clarence Double and Richard Moore, former Huntington Beach linemen; Frank Musselman, 1931 Saint who will try for end, and Bill Brown. It has been four years since Double played high school football, and two since Moore was in tugs.

The famous "spaghetti" shift, introduced by Howard Jones at U. S. C. last fall, will be the main feature of junior college drill Monday when Coach Cook will explain in detail the intricate formation to his men. He would have begun on it this week, but would rather wait until most of his expected enrollment is on hand. There will be no practice tentatively.

Eating students are amazed at some of the information they hear. For instance, a freshman asked for the enrollment at the Don institution was much more than 100 students. "Yes," informed the upperclassman, "we are expecting 100 to 1000 this term." Santa Ana junior college is growing by leaps and bounds. During 1931-32 the total enrollment reached 847.

His wealth of backs and scarcity of linemen has caused Coach Cook to consider Jack Fredericks, former Saint fullback, for a tackle position. Fredericks, having played tackle during his first two years of prep football, began drilling for his new assignment yesterday. He will learn the fullback duties, too. Weighing more than three laps around the quarter-mile track at Poly field every day after practice.

The U. S. C. Freshmen, whom the Dons play at Olympic stadium two weeks from tomorrow, will have their strongest team in years, according to Al Reboin, U. S. C. varsity candidate and former Santa Ana Hi sensation, who worked out at Poly field yesterday in preparation for Trojan drill which opens tomorrow.

Tackle Joe Prelinger is Santa Ana's leading candidate for a position on the Trojans eleven. Among others joining the crop of Troy yearlings are Gil Kuhn, Fullerton center; King Hall, San Diego guard; Art Eithner and Joe Hurst, Covina tackles; Cliff Probst, San Bernardino back; Arlo Munch, Long Beach back, and Rod Cameron, Alhambra quarterback.

BRUCE BARNES GLAD HE QUIT 'TENNIS BUMS'

By HENRY M'EMORE (United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—(UP)—If someone with authority called on us today and demanded we produce, at once, the happiest man in the world, we'd be up a tree, so to speak, for our candidate, Bruce Barnes of Fort Worth, Tex., is aboard the S. S. Europa bound for a three-months tour of the old countries.

We know that Barnes is the happiest man in the world, because he told us so. And why do you think his cup is filled to the overflowing? Because he has inherited a million, struck oil or found the only girl in the world? No, he is supremely happy because he quit amateur tennis for the sheltering shadow of "Big Bill" Tilden's professional wing.

"I'm Smart After All"
"You know," Mr. Barnes told us at Forest Hills yesterday where he had dropped in for a glimpse of the simon pure play, "you know I have the reputation of being a somewhat thick-headed individual, but I'm beginning to believe I'm pretty smart. One year ago I was playing in these same Nationals along with most of the fellows out there now. And like a lot of them, I was headed in the direction of becoming what is known as a 'tennis bum.'"

"Then I saw the light. I saw it the day I got eliminated, in the second round. I think I realized then and there that I never was going to be a champion and had better get something out of the little I knew about the game, while the getting was good. I'm still playing tennis, but I'm getting money for it. Another year of it—or until I get a little ahead and the depression lifts a bit—and I'm through with tennis."

Players Chase Rainbows
There was no stopping Mr. Barnes now. He had a speech to make and he made it.

"If I hadn't turned pro, where would I be now? Still chasing rainbows, just like about 90 per cent of those fellows out there. You know, it's mighty easy to make amateur tennis a career. It's a pretty good life while it lasts, flitting from one club to another, being treated like you were the King of Siam, and having the impressionable young things get flustered about you. But unless you are one out of a million and go on to be champion, you're liable to wind up right behind the eight ball. I mean you get up in years and then find your game gone, and you go."

Jack Kearns Proves Self Ace Manager

By FRANK G. MENKE (I. N. S. Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—(INS)—Maybe you don't fancy Jack Kearns' particular choice in perfume, or the way he parses synonyms, but you can't deny that this bird is the de luxe thing in fistic ballroom.

Kearns is pioneer in the "smoke-up" field; Kearns is the master of the art of rinky dinky and hocus focus and has done more witless material at his command than any fight manager.

He picked up Jack Dempsey after the slugger from the wilds of Utah had spent three seasons going nowhere except in pursuit of a $5 and $10 bill and by his Sven-gall methods directed the attention of the world to him. True, Dempsey had all the arts and sciences needed to make good when Kearns finally landed him on the threshold of opportunity but the fact is, Kearns is the man who engineered him to triumph when a score of others had failed.

Kearns has done even a greater job with Mickey Walker. Here is a youth who was belted out of the kingship of the welterweights years ago; who was pounded into a pulp by a rather mediocre warrior; who has blown this fight and that; Walker who was knocked down at least 7 times by the none too hard hitting Paul Swiderski and banged lopsided by plenty of the Toms, Dicks and Henrys.

Managed by anyone else, Walker would be one of the forgotten men in this era; he would be just somebody whose record could be found only in the books of yesteryears. But handled by Kearns, this mid-get, who never was much of a hitter, nor a great boxer, and who has lived gay and recklessly, is getting dolled up to strut his stuff against Max Schmeling, the second ranking heavy in the world.

The Kearns methods may not smack of ethics; they are freighted often with crudities and much that is called blatting. He yips and he yodels, when other men would remain silent. He has a publicity style that is peculiarly his own. Other men scorn his imitation; they scoff at the Kearns vocalizing and hoot his gestures.

But he gets results.

Italian Net Star Arrives in South

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 9.—(UP)—Georgio de Stefani, Italy's first ranking Davis Cup tennis player, began training today for the Pacific Southwest tennis championships September 16 to 25. He arrived yesterday, the first of several foreigners expected to participate.

TROJANS OUT TOMORROW: TO FEATURE SPEED

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 9.—University of Southern California's football team this season will lack much of the pile-driving power of the national championship Trojan eleven of last year, but will go in heavily for speed and a forward passing attack.

This is indicated from the conservative pre-season statements of Coach Howard Jones who admits that while the Trojans will not have any line smashing Jim Musickats at fullback they may have a fleet-footed Dick Barber at this position, and while they will lack the dash and drive of Gus Shaver they may have some good pass receivers with probably some good boys to throw the ball.

With a squad of 85 to 90 men expected to report for instruction, the Trojans are scheduled to hold their first practice session of the 1932 season tomorrow, at Bovard field.

Two practice sessions will be held, but with the opening practice due to be taken up with physical examinations, issuing of equipment, and photographing the big squad, the first real practice will be held in the afternoon period.

Versatility of attack and surprise plays will feature the Trojan offensive, according to present plans of Coach Jones. Behind a line that is fast as well as big, the S. C. eleven can put out a speedy set of backs in Orv Mohler, Gordon Clark, Cal Clemens and Dick Barber. These boys would average about 175 pounds to the man, considerably less than the average of last year's backs, but they would have more speed.

With Shaver out of the lineup and no great punters returning, the Trojans will probably rely on deceptive quick kicks. With no line plungers, fullback plays will probably feature quick openers to spring a fast man into the open. With splendid forward passers like Homer Griffith and Irvine (Cotton) Warburton on the quarterback string, the Trojans are expected to bring their aerial game to a high point of development.

Mohler for open field running, Barber and Warburton for speed, Griffith and Warburton for bull-eye forward passing, Mohler and Griffith for quick kicking, Sparling and Clemens for ball carrying on reverses and Clark and Clemens for expert interfering will aid considerably in Head Man Jones' first objective for his 1932 offense—versatility.

Night Nines Cut $3673.14 From Series

First division teams of the National Night League will cut a "melon" totaling $3673.14, net receipts of the recent Santa Ana-Anaheim championship series, it was announced officially today. Gross receipts were considerably greater than this but series expenditures were heavy, reducing the net more than $700.

Anaheim, the winner, was awarded as its share $1469.25. Santa Ana, second, got $1101.94; Olive, third, $551.06; Westminster, fourth, $367.31, and Torrance, fifth, $183.75.

Leading clubs of this division will also participate in the payoff of the Anaheim-Riverside Southern California titular series. The winning league will get 60 per cent of the intake. Of that 60 per cent, Anaheim will draw 60 per cent, and Santa Ana and other clubs proportionate shares.

BABE BELIEVES HE'LL PLAY IN WORLD SERIES

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—(UP)—Babe Ruth expects to play in his tenth world series, despite slight symptoms of appendicitis which have sent him to bed temporarily.

Close friends, Yankee officials and many baseball writers believe it's a 10-to-1 shot that George Herman Ruth will be out in right field for the Yanks when and if they meet the Chicago Cubs for the championship.

The Babe's stomach ache throbbed around the world Wednesday night when he made his "home run" from Detroit to have himself examined and treated. It is generally believed, however, that the famous slugger was more frightened than seriously ill and that his constitution and amazing recuperative powers will help him shake off the ailment in a hurry.

Dr. Edward King, the Yankees' consulting physician, was expected to reassure Ruth's thousands of admirers today or tomorrow after further examinations.

Immediately after Babe's arrival from Detroit yesterday with his wife, Dr. King set at rest any alarms that the home run hitter's condition might be considered serious.

"The Babe," said Dr. King, "does show slight symptoms of appendicitis, but it will take a little more time to diagnose the case fully. I have ordered him to remain in absolute quiet for the next two days, during which I will keep him under close observation. I do not expect an operation will be necessary."

Aside from his slight limp, the result of a couple of minor leg injuries suffered recently, Ruth looked healthy, without his usual jauntiness.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 9.—(UP)—The Loyola-California Tech football game has been postponed one night until Saturday, September 24, to avoid conflict with other contests, it was announced today.

INTERNATIONAL FINALE LIKELY TO TITLE PLAY

BY DAVIS J. WALSH (I. N. S. Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—(INS)—Only a slim young collegian, just brash enough to be dangerous, and a grim, case-hardened campaigner, equally menacing, today stood between destiny and the long-awaited "million-dollar" match involving the tennis champions of two great continents, Henri Cochet and Ellsworth Vines.

This, briefly, was the situation as the four survivors of an original field of 128 made ready for the big show down in the semi-final round of the National championship in singles down there on the center courts at Forest Hills this afternoon.

Cochet, the agile Frenchman, will marshal his deft stroking and matchless tactics against the resourceful, courageous attack of Wilmer Allison, the die-hard Texan, in one match. Vines, defending champion, will meet Clifford Sutter, intercollegiate champion, in the other and before the day is done, a semi-capacity crowd of 10,000 will fairly totter under the impact of its emotions.

Cochet 'Imported'

It is the first time that Cochet, the modern master who practically drove Tilden into professionalism, has played in the American championship since he won the title four years ago. This all-dominant factor, this almost legendary figure who alone has saved the Davis Cup for France, year after year, was imported this time at considerable expense with the idea of bringing about a second and pay-off meeting with Vines, the smashing American, and it seemed today that hope was about to become fulfillment.

Cochet was all tennis player yesterday in winning from Frank Shields, American, in one of the quarter-finals, 4-6, 6-3, 6-4, 6-0. Vines was equally impressive against Lester Stiefen, of Los Angeles, 6-3, 7-5, 6-4, and altogether it might seem that nothing could stop either of them—if there wasn't so much.

Allison alone was menace enough, for not only was he the background of a great internationalist but the will to call on and tap hidden, even unsuspected resources at a time like this. He dropped the first set to Sidney Wood yesterday, 5-7, but after that the Wimbledon champion of 1931 was moved down like so much fodder, winning just nine games in the last three sets.

Sutter Amazes Critics

As for Sutter, he was an amazing figure out there as he raced through George Lott, last year's finalist, in straight sets, the last two at love, while the gallery gasped and old timers rubbed bewildered eyes. Lott was as good yesterday as he was in the 1931 final against Vines, but once he was broken in the first set, he was broken finally and, as far as this match was concerned, never. He was still the admitted king of the volleyers and he stormed the net with practically every rally, but Sutter met him stroke for stroke and drove him back to the base line with smashes and volleys that brooked no return.

This is the ball of fire that Vines will be asked to subdue this afternoon. "Tennismen" Austin, the Englishman, couldn't do it Thursday. Lott failed yesterday. So it will be the champion's turn today and, if he succeeds, he will go on to Saturday's final round with the double chance of repeating his 1931 triumph and his victory over Cochet in the last singles match of the Davis Cup challenge round.

STORY BY HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KING

The shooting star cried, "This is fun. I'll show you how my shooting star. Hang on, now, to your basket, 'cause we're going very fast."

"I'll go for all that I am worth and head directly toward the earth," then Duncy cried, "Oh, my, how long is this trip going to last?"

"What do you care?" asked Scouty. "We are as safe as we can be as long as we don't tumble out. I think this trip is great."

"Why do you look for trouble, lad? So far not one thing's turned out bad. You always seem to worry and that's one thing that I hate."

"All right," said Duncy. "I'll keep still. I will admit this is a thrill. I will not say another word until we land some place."

"I've heard of shooting star before, so should have known what we in store. It seems, right now, that we are in a mighty speedy race."

The star was like a racing steed.

because it kept on gaining speed. Down, down they went, till Windy cried, "I see the earth below."

"Look at the trees. They seem real near and that's where we're bound for. I fear. No wonder Duncy was afraid. My spirit, too, is low."

Just then a great big cloud drew nigh and, as it floated through the sky, the little star whizzed through it. For a moment all was dark.

Then they sailed back into the light to find that all was quite all right. Wee Coppy caught his breath and cried, "This surely is a luck."

Alas! The ride was due to flop. Before they had a chance to stop, the bottom of the basket ripped. "Was greeted by a shout."

"We're doomed! We're doomed!" one Tiny cried. "We cannot hang tight to the side." In just about a moment all the Tines toppled out. (Copyright, 1932, NEA Service, Inc.)

(A large box kite saves the Tines in the next story.)

BONERS

The Yellow Peril means a banana skin left on the pavement.

BONERS are actual humorous tidbits found in examination papers, essays, etc., by teachers.

Food passes from the mouth into the bronchial tubes and thence into the lungs where it is purified and masticated.

When a man is overcome by drink he should be taken or should go to a hot place.

An elegy is a poem written out for schools to learn, like Gray's Elegy.

By the Attic Warbler the poet means the skylark. The skylark is the bird which soars the highest.

2-DAY SKIMMER RACES SLATED OFF NEWPORT

The first annual inter-club skimmer regatta will be held on a four-mile ocean course off Newport-Balboa tomorrow and Sunday afternoons, with the Balboa Yacht club as host club and skimmers from three other Southern California clubs competing. It was announced today by Commodore E. Goodell Sherman of the Balboa club.

Seven boats from the Alamitos Bay Yacht club, five from the Mission Beach (San Diego) club, two from Lake Elsinore and seven from the Balboa club are entered. It was said. One race tomorrow afternoon will be over a windward and leeward course, and two will take place Sunday afternoon, one over a triangular course and the other probably using a windward and leeward course.

Skippers of the arrow class of sailboats have asked for a race and it is probable that this will also be arranged on one of the two days.

A dinner and dance will be tendered to the visiting skippers, crews and others at the Balboa Yacht club Saturday evening, and after the races Sunday trophies will be presented there.

According to the yacht dopsters the chief battle for first place will be between Skipper Homer of the Mission club and Barce Miller of Balboa. They have been competitors recently at Long Beach and Alamitos Bay, with Miller victorious by a slight edge. Other skippers to race include Toby White, Bart Henderson and Davy Jones, Mackey of Elsinore and Russell and Purcell of Alamitos Bay.

Hoot Gibson in the role of Jimmy Duncan is pledged to keep the peace for a period of 30 days. Costa Mesa Legion Post Announces Annual Fiesta

PICTURESQUE AFFAIR TO BE HELD OCT. 9

Plans for reviving the olden, golden days of California for one day each year are being developed by Costa Mesa Post No. 455, American Legion. The baby post of the Legion in Orange county plans to stage on October 9 the first annual "Fiesta Del Oro, 1849."

Through this fiesta to be presented on the old Derby Ranch, headquarters for the Costa Mesa post and a part of an old Spanish land grant, the only one in Orange county, members of the Fiesta committee will cause to live again the glamorous days of the Dons and Senoritas.

This fiesta, according to plans of the committee, will bring to life the most beautiful chapter of California's history, the chapter of Hacienda days. It was in the Hacienda days of California, before the discovery of gold, that the true romance of a romantic land was written.

When John Sutter discovered gold on the Sacramento river, his was written to the chapter of beauty and peace in California and outsiders invaded the land in their search for gold. In their quest they brought violence, dissipation and sudden death that killed forever the kindly hospitality of the true Californian. Development and utilization of the state's natural resources finally merged the glamour of Hacienda Days until today a few ruins of the old missions, relics in museums and memories that live in the hearts of descendants of those first Californians are all that remain.

It remained for the Costa Mesa post of the Legion and its fiesta committee headed by L. C. Slot-hower to stir the ashes of the past for a historic setting for this Fiesta Del Oro. Occupying the historic Derby Ranch of 524 acres with post headquarters in the old ranch house, it was fitting that the post should decide to hold the fiesta in its own headquarters.

The Derby Ranch was a part of the Santiago de Santa Ana land grant, the only Spanish grant in the county, made in 1810 to Sergeant Antonio Yorba, a retired officer of the Spanish army, and Juan Pablo Peralta, his nephew. Other county grants were made by Mexicans after obtaining her independence.

Treasure Spot
The old adobe ranch house, now headquarters for the Legion post, is surrounded by pepper trees and located on a bluff overlooking the Santa Ana river. Legend has attached hidden treasure to the old premises and the house was almost ruined by treasure seekers before it was restored and occupied by Mr. Derby in 1927. The Costa Mesa post of the Legion plans to recreate, as far as possible, the atmosphere of the old days about the ranch house. They will return to the ranch house the atmosphere of hospitality that in the Hacienda days made the house always open to travelers from north or south.

On the days of the fiesta the ranch again will be populated with Indians, miners, trappers, vaqueros, and plainmen. Wagon trains and stage coaches will arrive with their dusty travelers in search of hospitality. Spanish Dons and their parties will arrive to find hospitality and entertainment. As in the old Hacienda days there will be contests to amuse the guests. There will be Indian wrestling, reata throwing contests, knife throwing, two handed pistol shooting contests and off-hand rifle shooting.

Cash Prizes
There will be a parade in the afternoon with cash prizes amounting to $100 to be awarded for feature, turnout, best picture, the days of old. Entries for the parade or contests can be made through communication with Fiesta del Oro, 1849, Chairman, Box 331, Costa Mesa.

The fiesta will start at noon with a grand barbecue, served in Spanish style under the pepper trees. After dinner there will be the parade and judging of the feature turnouts and costumes. Then will follow the contests. A nominal admission will be charged and this one price will include the barbecue dinner. Proceeds of the day will be divided between the unemployed and the post. In announcing the fiesta, members of the committee urge that everyone who attends cooperate in creating the atmosphere of olden days by wearing frontier costumes.

Follows Custom
In selecting October as the month for the fiesta, members of the committee followed the custom of Hacienda days. With the finish of the fall roundup and the harvest of the vineyards there followed a period of celebration or fiestas.

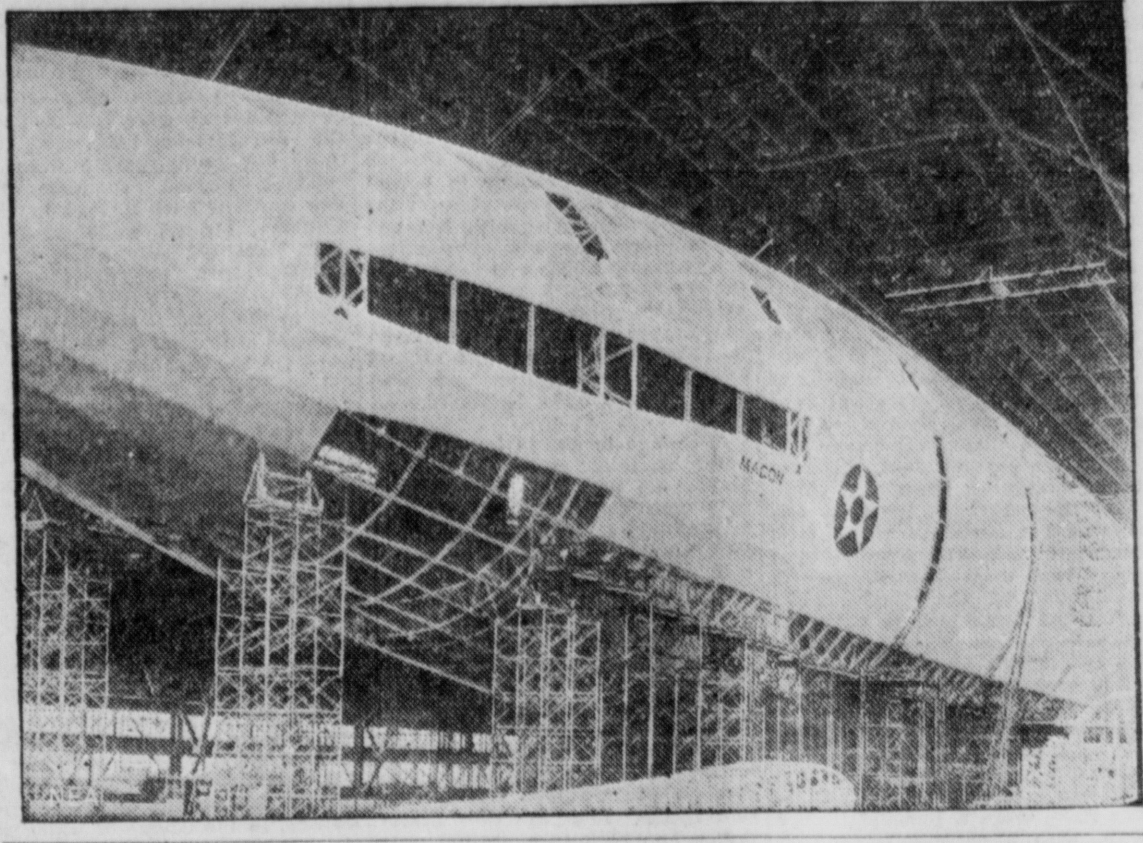

With friends and relatives who had traveled many weary miles to attend the celebrations occupying all available quarters on the ranches and in no hurry to start the return trip, the jollification continued for many days. As there was little market for ranch produce, the abundance of field and vine was disposed of through hospitality extended during fiesta times.

School Fund From State Here Soon

The first state aid apportionment will be placed in the mail for Orange county schools on or September 10, it was revealed today in a letter received from Walter E. Morgan, assistant superintendent of state public instruction by Ray Adkinson, county school superintendent. The amount of money to be received here is not yet known, Adkinson said.

ABOUT READY TO TAKE THE AIR

Here is the latest picture of the navy's U. S. S. Macon, sister ship of the Akron, which is rapidly nearing the final stage of its construction in the giant airship dock at Akron, O. The Macon will be 785 feet long, will have a maximum diameter of 132.9 feet and will embody several changes as compared with its sister ship. The improvements are expected to give the new craft greater maneuverability.

WAR AND PEACE HEROES FORM CLUB SUBJECT

"Heroes of California" formed the topic for an interesting discourse before the Santa Ana Lions club yesterday noon by Postmaster T. E. Stephenson, a close student of California history, and author of books and numerous articles upon the history of Orange county.

Santa Ana heroes of recent times mentioned by the speaker were the late Jack Fisher, one of only two Californians to receive the Madaille Militaire of France for his war service, and Col. "Neb" Holderman, now commander of the veterans' home at Yountville, who is one of the 300 men in the entire history of the United States to receive the Congressional Medal of Honor. Another to receive the Congressional medal, he said, was the grandfather of Don Jerome, a member of the Lions club, for services against the Indians in Arizona.

Early Leaders
Reviewing briefly the history of California and the western coast, Stephenson mentioned among heroes of the day such men as Cabrillo, Portola, Father Junipero Serra, Richard Howard Dana, William Keith Davis, founder of San Diego, General Fremont, Kit Carson, Stockton, who was an uncle of Bruce Stockton of Santa Ana. Fremont especially interested him, he said, because Fremont had led an army through what is now Orange county to the capture of Los Angeles from the Californians.

"The California legislature had no trouble in agreeing upon Junipero Serra as one of two Californians whose statue should be erected in the Congressional Hall of Fame at New York," said Stephenson. "For the second, the passed by Col. Sutter, Leland Stanford, and all the rest, finally to agree upon the Rev. Thomas Starr King, Unitarian minister of San Francisco, whose ability and active campaigning throughout the state saved California for the Union and prevented its joining the Confederacy. It is interesting to note that California's two greatest men, selected by the state legislature, include one Roman Catholic priest and one Protestant minister."

Ethics Code
Preceding the Stephenson address, International Director Elliott Rowland spoke briefly upon the Lions Code of Ethics, calling special attention to the paragraphs: "In order to build up my own business, it is not necessary to tear down another's;" "To be careful with my criticism and liberal with my praises; to build up and not destroy."

Miss Wilma Silverman, Miss Reese, and Joe Peterson entertained with an amusing Community

LEGION HEAD

Judge J. B. Tucker was last night unanimously elected commander of the Santa Ana post of the American Legion. He succeeds Rodney Bacon. He succeeds Rodney Bacon.

Play skit, with Miss Republican and Miss Democracy discussing the political situation. Chairman of the day was Ernie Gould, chairman of the educational committee.

STRAW BALLOT ON ELECTION OPENED

Santa Ana is to get, in a very few days now, an insight into how the Hoover-Roosevelt and the other political races of November will turn out. The Green Cat cafe, located on North Main street, started a straw ballot poll yesterday afternoon. More than 200 had voted last night.

Votes are being cast for United States senator, for state senator, for assemblyman from this district, for congressman from the nineteenth district and for supervisor in the first district.

Through arrangements made with James Detrixhe, proprietor of the restaurant, the Register will be given the results exclusively.

BARBER CITY
BARBER CITY, Sept. 9.—The former James house on Francis street, which has been owned by the Pacific Building and Loan association, was sold this week by A. N. Olson, local realtor, to a Mr. Duval, of Laguna Beach. Mr. Duval, who will move to his new property, is in the fruit retail business.

Mrs. H. Hilborn left Wednesday for the desert to join Mr. Hilborn to return the last of the week with Mr. Hilborn and Mr. Spikes.

NEW OFFICERS SELECTED BY LEGIONNAIRES

Without opposition, J. B. Tucker, well known Santa Ana attorney, last night was made commander of the Santa Ana post of the American Legion, while other officers were put into office through spirited balloting which required most of the evening.

Judge Tucker has always been interested in Legion affairs and has been active in the Santa Ana post. He succeeds Rodney Bacon, manager of the California Edison company, as commander. Bacon having filled the post only a few months. Bacon succeeded William Penn, elected as commander last year, when Penn resigned to become a city official.

In a spirited race, Harold Brown was elected first vice commander, defeating the field by 29 votes, while Robert Sandon was elected second vice commander, defeating Harry Pickard by a margin of six votes.

Art Ecklund was re-elected as post adjutant and Theo Bolte was re-elected chaplain. He had no opposition. Peter Van Dam was elected sergeant-at-arms by a comfortable margin. The new members of the executive committee elected last night out of a field of 18 were Ernest Winbiger, Frank Corey, Franklin Grouard, Charles Nussbaumer and Charles Swanner.

New officers for the post will be installed at the next meeting of the post, set for September 22.

Literature and Music Will Distinguish Ebell Opening

After a summer's cessation from practically all club activities, members of Ebell society of Santa Ana Valley are turning with renewed interest to plans for the formal opening of their club year on Monday, September 12.

Each member has received invitation to the general club luncheon with which the executive board of the society will launch the year's activities, and which will be served at a very nominal price, promptly at 12:30 o'clock in the peacock room of the clubhouse.

With their customary thoroughness the club executives have planned special entertainment for the luncheon hour, for their honor guests at the event will be none other than "The Bartletts," co-authors of that recent successful book, "Adios," which with its delightful early California atmosphere, later was successfully filmed as "The Lash."

Lanier Bartlett and his talented wife, Virginia Bartlett, are proudly claimed as Santa Anans, and their return to this, their home city, will be of the utmost interest to Ebell society. They will both give short talks at the luncheon, a fact which naturally heightens interest in the event. In addition to "Adios," Lanier Bartlett recently issued "Los Angeles in Seven Days," lauded as a "perfectly charming guide to Los Angeles." Furthermore he has recently completed the editing of Major Horace Bell's "On the Old West Coast," for his knowledge of early California history is comprehensive and complete.

For the opening club session to convene in the auditorium at 2 o'clock, Mrs. Paul Bailey will preside, having been returned to the office of president at the annual election which culminated the recent club year.

Mrs. J. M. Cloyes, chairman of art and literature in the Orange County Federation of Women's Clubs, will be presented on the program, using as her entertainment theme, "The Story of the Old Castle," by Mousourouky; the early English air, "Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes," (Ponchon arrangement) and "The Mill" by Raff. For the final feature the five musicians will play a Dohnanyi quintet, Opus 1.

Variety makes the opening group of the musical program which will include a Bach, "Menuetto," "An Old Castle" by Mousourouky; the early English air, "Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes," (Ponchon arrangement) and "The Mill" by Raff. For the final feature the five musicians will play a Dohnanyi quintet, Opus 1.

Campus Service Clubs Have Jolly-up for Students

In order that many of the Santa Ana junior college freshmen students may know each other before actual classes begin at the college, members of Sisterhood of Spinsters and Brotherhood of Bachelors, campus service clubs, yesterday held a delightful afternoon of bridge at the Y hut. Fall flowers were used throughout the room.

This affair, which was expressed in the appropriate term as a "jolly-up" party was for both men and women students who are entering on their first year at college. Furthering this hospitality, members of the Gauchos and Las Gitanas, service clubs, are entertaining this afternoon in the Y. V. C. A. hut.

Instead of meeting at their headquarters on Monday afternoon the girls will meet at the Christian church social hall to continue preparations for the program on "The American Indian." Miss Winslow Made Honor Guest at Gift Shower

With the marriage of Miss Lois Winslow, daughter of Mrs. Nell D. Winslow, 502 East Pine street, to Ray Klumb of Colton, set for Saturday, September 17, significance was lent the invitation extended by Miss Fred Rowland and her daughter, Mrs. Russell Wilson, for a party given Wednesday in Miss Winslow's honor. The situation was an especially happy one, since Mrs. Wilson and the honoree have enjoyed the closest acquaintance for many years, having been classmates from the third grade on through high school.

Guests bidden to Wednesday's affair brought with them kitchen gifts for the bride-elect, which were appreciated by the hostess as guests arrived, to be taken to the rear garden and hung from an umbrella. The bride-elect, who was discovered when she was invited out of doors after the bridge play, and while guests lingered in the garden they were allowed to inspect the gifts as the honoree opened them.

Scroll Betrays Shower
Miss Winslow was advised of the location of the "shower" when her hostesses presented card awards, wrapped in yellow cellophane, to Mrs. James Dickson and Mrs. Harry LeBar, scoring high and second high. A scroll, tied with yellow ribbon, and directing the guest of honor to the rear yard, was given Miss Winslow at the same time.

Upon returning to the house, guests found shades drawn and the rooms lit only by yellow tapers, set upon tables laid with white cloths. In the dining room a larger table bore as its centerpiece a miniature bridal party, complete, from miniature to gaily clad flower girl. The yellow zinnias, evident earlier during the bridge play, and the tall candles emphasized the yellow and white scheme employed.

Mrs. C. F. Crose, mother and grandmother of the two hostesses, presided at a coffee urn while guests circled the buffet table assisting themselves to the various dainties, including ice cream, molded in the form of yellow and white doves, and returning with their refreshments to the smaller tables.

Baby Proves Attraction
Vieling with the honoree for the center of attention was Mrs. Wilson's infant daughter, Barbara Joan, whose three-months old already captivated an easily won following.

Mrs. Rowland and Mrs. Wilson were assisted by their daughter and sister, Miss Barbara Rowland, as well as by Mrs. C. F. Crose.

Assembled to compliment Miss Winslow were the honoree's mother, Mrs. Nell D. Winslow; the Misses Jessie Scott, Virginia Powell, Ruth Gaffey, Edith Twist, Evelyn Metzger; Mesdames Don Park, Hugh Tolley, LeRoy Dickson, James Dickson and Harry LeBar, all of Santa Ana; the Misses Muriel Smith, Elaine Smith, Ruth Hilyard and Mrs. Lester Hirst, all of Orange; Miss Winslow's sister, Mrs. Ray Smith of La Habra; Mrs. Don Nash of Hanford; Mrs. Howard Frazee of Long Beach; the Misses Dorothy DeVries of Los Angeles; Ella Mary Parks of Anaheim; and Edith Lewis and Virginia Jones of Ontario.

Junior Fine Arts Group Convenes In Boyd Home

Another program of unusual interest was conducted by Junior Fine Arts club members meeting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Boyd, 1110 South San Ness avenue.

Climaxing the afternoon's musical was a one-act play which proved a parody on Shakespeare's "Romeo and Juliet." The theme of the program was complimentary to Miss Dorothy Dunsen, city and to her fiancé, Frank Bowman, San Francisco lawyer, who are to be married on Sunday. A leather music holder was presented Miss Dunsen by the club as a parting gift. Miss Emma Williams, president, conducted an earlier business meeting at which the club's by-laws were read and voted upon.

Participants in the program were the Misses Eulabelle Smith, Gray, Betty Browning, Vivian Rogers, Neva Fay Gerdes, Hazel M. Stutz, Jennette Bodman and Mary Boyd; Mrs. Ruth Swanson Lykke and Messrs. Harbottle and Ross Boyd.

Refreshments of ices, candies, sandwiches and a birthday cake, the latter feature honoring Ross Boyd, were served members present, these included Holly Lash Vissel, Mrs. McGaffey, Mrs. Ruth Swanson Lykke; Mrs. Henry Ehren; the Misses Jeannette Bodman, Kathryn Benham, Harriet Ann McGaffey, Dorothy Durkin, Emma Williams, Geneva Hartung, Neva Fay Gerdes, Hazel M. Stutz, Vivian Rogers, Betty Browning, Mary Boyd; Messrs. Harbottle and Ross Boyd; and the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Boyd.

Friends Assist With Birthday Surprise

As director of the Little Church of the Westwood hour, over KREG, Mrs. E. Elmer was responsible for a pleasant surprise this week complimenting Mrs. Roxanna Metzger on the latter's 64th birthday anniversary.

Mrs. Metzger's favorite song was rendered during the morning broadcast and later in the day members of the church called at her home, 1051 West Sixth street, where she resides with her niece, Mrs. L. R. Jones. Cards, flowers, fruits and other gifts were brought Mrs. Metzger as birthday mementoes and aided in making her anniversary an exceptionally happy one.

Early Morning Rites Marked by Beauty Of Nuptial Mass

Marked by the quiet beauty of the nuptial mass of the Catholic church was the marriage of Miss Irene Heim and Russell Eugene Daley, which took place Wednesday morning, September 7, at 8:30 o'clock in St. Joseph's church. The Rev. F. J. Wickenman officiated, with the Rev. Father Nevin assisting. Brothers of the bride and bridegroom, Ralph Heim and Harold Daley, served the mass.

Miss Heim is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Heim and Mr. Daley is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Daley, of this city. To the strains of Lohengrin's Wedding March, played by Miss Josephine Madrid, the bride and bridegroom were preceded to the altar by Miss Edna May Heim, who attended her sister as maid of honor, and Frank Brothers of Los Angeles, best man. Miss Heim was given in marriage by her father, Ray Heim.

During the nuptial mass, three intimate friends of the young people sang sacred hymns of the church. In the group were the Misses Rosemary Ashen, Mercedes Taylor and Alice Biner.

For the ceremony, the altar was adorned in white, with faint touches of blue and yellow. Palms and ferns were banded from a background for the glowing white tapers and large baskets of yellow chrysanthemums which completed the bridal setting.

The bride was lovely in a form fitting frock of brown chiffon velvet, worn with an attractive turban and all matching accessories. Her flowers were gardenias, arranged with fern in a corsage. Miss Edna May Heim wore a Burgundy crepe gown, with a corsage bouquet to duplicate her sister's.

Wedding Breakfast
A wedding breakfast at Ketter's followed the ceremony, with Mr. and Mrs. Ray Heim as hosts at the affair. In the square formed by tables placed in U fashion, yellow chrysanthemums were arranged, carried out the floral theme used at the wedding. The centerpiece was a tiered wedding cake, topped with miniature bride and bridegroom. Tall white tapers lighting the scene were in silver holders. Parchment place cards of sweet pea design and bouquets of sweet peas further added to the decorative effect. A delicious menu was served.

Reception
Not until later in the day, when a reception was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Heim at 809 Bush street, was the wedding cake cut. This was served with ice cream and other dainties, in a setting provided by many bouquets of yellow chrysanthemums and other flowers.

The new Mr. and Mrs. Daley are spending their honeymoon at Big Bear, expecting to return home in about a week's time. A pretty home is all furnished and waiting for them at 1627 West Third street. For traveling, the bride wore a blue and white crepe costume, enhanced with her bridal corsage.

Mr. Daley will resume his duties with the Union Oil company. Guests at the wedding breakfast were the Rev. Mr. Nevin, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Daley, parents of the bridegroom; Mr. and Mrs. Ray Heim, parents of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Daley and children, Billie and Bobbie of Long Beach; Mr. and Mrs. Leavitt Daley, Edward Daley and Miss Neva Barnett, his fiancée.

Harold Daley, Mrs. Charles Bevis, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Heim, grandparents of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Heim, Julian Heim, Miss Ruth Heim, Carl Heim Jr., Albert Heim, Jimmie Heim, Miss Edna May Heim, Raymond Heim Jr., Miss Bernadine Ashen of this city; Mrs. Carol Bartlett, San Francisco; Frank Brothers and Miss Betty Burns, Los Angeles; F. A. Robinson, Pasadena, and the honored guests, the new Mr. and Mrs. Daley.

Families Entertained At Evening Affair At Park

For the second time within the last several weeks, members of the Outdoor club entertained their families at a delightful picnic dinner, giving the affair Wednesday evening at Irvine park. Women and children of the group went to the park early in the afternoon, enjoying games and contests.

Most of the party arrived shortly after 6 o'clock in the evening, ready for the delicious dinner of hamburgers and tempting accessories, concluded with the serving of watermelon.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Russell and children, Jean and Bobbie; Miss Irene Noble, Mrs. Fred White, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Granas and daughters, Aubrey and Beatrice; Miss Florence Bear, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Tannenbaum and family, Mr. and Mrs. Will Curran, Mr. and Mrs. Will Colley, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Voyle, Mrs. W. H. Walton, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gardner, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Snyder, Eldon Murray, Mrs. Mollie Butler and children, Helen, Jim and Bill.

ANN MEREDITH'S MIXING BOWL

A Side Dish and a Salad
You'll find rice and pineapple a welcome change to serve with baked ham or roast beef. These amounts serve eight:
1 1/2 cups washed rice cooked in 1 1/2 quarts of boiling water
1 No. 2 can shredded pineapple salt and pepper
3 tablespoons butter cut in bits
3/4 cup brown sugar
Cook the rice rapidly in boiling water, drain and rinse clear of the starch by running hot water through the rice. Drain the can of pineapple and mix with the rice. Pour it loosely into a baking tin, first adding what salt and pepper seems necessary. Scatter the top thickly with brown sugar, dot with butter and bake in a medium oven 30 minutes.

A change in salads is much enjoyed occasionally, for one does get fed up with the inevitable lettuce and tomatoes, good though they may be. We'll still serve the lettuce—and perhaps slices of tomato—but we'll take the curse off them by serving with them—
CHEESE SQUARES
1 cup whipped cream (1/2 cup unwhipped measure)
1 teaspoon dissolved gelatine
6 teaspoons grated nippy cheese
Salt and paprika to taste
Dissolve the gelatine over hot water, then cool it and whip through the whipped cream. Season nicely, fold in the grated cheese and chill in a shallow pan. Cut in squares and serve as a garnish with a green salad. Dressing? French, of course.

TODAY'S RECIPE
Ham Omelette (4 Servings)
4 eggs, whites beaten separately
2-3 teaspoon salt
2-3 teaspoon pepper
1/2 cup warm water
1 cup thick white sauce
1 cup chopped ham
1 teaspoon grated onion
1 teaspoon shredded green pepper
Assuming that you are serving ham omelette for Sunday breakfast, let's have muffins or popovers to go with the omelette. In that way the oven can be used for both omelette and hot bread.

Beat the egg yolks with salt and pepper until light, then add the water, fold in the stiffly beaten whites, whipping them rather than folding them in. Have a large iron skillet heated and in it about 2 tablespoonsful of melted butter, pour in the omelette, shake quickly over the hot flame for a minute or two, brown the bottom, then finish the cooking in the oven. The omelette will bake in about 5 minutes, puffing up tremendously. Have a hot platter ready, the ham filling also. Take skillet from oven, spread with the creamed ham, insert a knife at one edge and gently fold it over, slipping it onto the platter. Scatter plenty of chopped parsley and melted butter over the brown top and serve immediately. The family must wait, never the omelette.

If you have been unable to achieve a light omelette, try my way for a change. The calories per portion will amount to at least 400; they are the tissue builders.

OVERWEIGHT, ITS CAUSE AND CURE, the leaflet for this week, has been withdrawn from the box and offered to you free of charge except for the usual stamped, self-addressed envelope we require for mailing it to you. Important changes in the new fall clothes makes the overhauling of your figure a necessity. Have a look at them, send for the leaflet and get busy.

Saturday's recipe will be Graham Cracker Shortcake.

Fourteenth Birthday Is Observed With Merry Party

The fourteenth birthday anniversary of Miss Eleanor Henry, occasioned a happy affair yesterday afternoon when Mrs. James Henry, mother of the young celebrant, presided at a surprise party to which a bevy of Miss Eleanor's friends were invited to the Henry home on Walnut street.

Games were introduced as the afternoon program and after a merry interval, were climaxed with the refreshment hour. At this time, the young people were assembled around a table that was centered with flowers in vivid autumnal shades, while favors at each plate not only added to the colorful effect, but provided fortunes which were read aloud, to add to the general merriment. Ice cream, candy and punch were served with the birthday cake.

Miss Eleanor was presented with many pretty gifts by her guests who included in addition to her brother Jimmy, the Misses Elsie Booth, Donita Jordan, Marjorie Allen and Barbara Steelman of Garden Grove.

Santa Anan Reveals Impressions of Orient

With her disembarkment from the Tatsuta Maru, Mrs. Joy Wakefield, daughter of Mrs. Thomas Vance of 450 West First street, completed a voyage of nearly three months, in the course of which she touched at ports in Hawaii, Japan, China and the Philippines.

Home after her prolonged absence, Mrs. Wakefield is disclosing interesting impressions of various of the Far Eastern centers visited. Japan, Manila and Hongkong she cites as having aroused special admiration. Mrs. Wakefield was 12 days in Japan, stopping on this island and twice during her voyage. China as a country she found of exceedingly warm climate, but Hongkong she admired for the English character of its metropolis; for its spectacular site, on the side of a mountain, and for its renowned harbor. Manila, rivalled Hongkong in the Santa Anan's opinion, the cleanliness and beauty of the former city making its impression.

Mrs. Wakefield had as shipmates a group of San Francisco friends, and throughout her trip was fortunate enough to encounter acquaintances from Fresno, Pomona and other California cities. A bereavement in the family and the illness of her sister, Dr. Mabel Vance Tremain of Fullerton, former resident of Santa Ana, diminished the pleasure attending Mrs. Wakefield's homecoming.

Surprise Party Comes As Celebration of Birthday

Mrs. George Ray's birthday anniversary was the occasion for a successful surprise party given last night when a group of friends arrived at her home, 112 South Van Ness avenue, for an evening of cards. Mrs. Ray supposed that she was to be a member of a beach party, and was indeed surprised when the group of guests remained at her home instead of continuing to the beach with her.

The thoughtful guests had omitted no details in making the affair especially enjoyable. Dahlias and asters had been supplied for decking the home in appropriate manner. An informal session of 500 followed.

Refreshments of ice-cream and prettily decorated birthday cakes were served. Mrs. James P. Ryan and Mrs. E. C. Kuhl had baked the delicious cakes. The group presented Mrs. Ray with a lovely gift.

Those in the group were Mr. and Mrs. James U. Ayan, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Morgan, Miss Letitia Morgan, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Kuhl, Mrs. Flora Hoyt, Miss Margaret Kuhl, Mrs. Annie Arnold, Mrs. Nannie Myers, Jack Cook and Mrs. Ray, the honored guest.

TUSTIN, Sept. 9.—Mr. and Mrs. Elton G. Holmes and daughter and son, Kathleen and Robert, of Newport road, have returned from a six weeks vacation motor trip. They visited relatives and friends in Fargo, N. D.; Detroit Lakes, France and Battle Lake, Minn. They were accompanied home by a niece, Miss Mabel Peoples, of Detroit Lakes, who will make her home with them and attend Santa Ana Junior college this year.

W. S. Trowbridge, of LaVerne, was a Monday dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Hatch.

Henry Hield, of Riverside, spent several days recently with his aunt, Miss Emma B. Hield.

Mr. and Mrs. Fenlon C. Matthews and daughter and son, Virginia and Harold, were Sunday guests of Mrs. Sarah May Matthews.

Mrs. C. E. Utt and daughter, Miss Marjorie Rawlings, of Lemon Heights, have returned from a several days visit with relatives at Simi.

Miss Minnie Brady, of Iowa City, Ia., and Miss Mildred Johnson, Pasadena, were Saturday guests of Miss May Rose Borum. All three were former school mates in Iowa.

James Gough, of San Diego, spent several days recently with his daughter, Mrs. E. M. Hart.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerome C. Kidd and son, Ralph, left Friday by motor on a two weeks business and pleasure trip to Idaho. They will visit Mrs. Kidd's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Irwin, at Burley, Ida., and Mr. Kidd's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. George Mimmell, in McCammon, Ida.

Fred Ferrey has returned from a several days stay at Loma Linda.

EVERY WOMAN
faces this question

"How do I look to other people?" If you have a lovely skin, attractive eyes, and plenty of enthusiasm, you need not worry.

So many women, though, risk their beauty by neglect of constipation. It often causes loss of pep, sallow skins, dull eyes, pimples.

Yet constipation can be overcome by eating Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. This cereal provides "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and Vitamin B which tones the intestinal tract. ALL-BRAN also supplies iron for the blood.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that of lettuce. Special cooking processes make it finer, more palatable. It is not habit-forming.

Surely this is safer than abusing the system with pills and drugs—so often habit-forming.

Two tablespoonfuls daily will correct most types of constipation. If your intestinal trouble is not relieved this way, see your doctor.

At all grocers. In the red-and-green package. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

PANTRY SHELF

GRAPES PLENTIFUL FOR JAM AND JELLY

Local grocers today reported that many housewives were already taking advantage of the grape season and the low price of sugar and other ingredients of jam and jelly to stock cupboards.

A large proportion of housewives, the store-keepers said, are following the short-bill method of jelly making, which includes the use of bottled fruit pectin, and which adds as much as half again to the number of glasses from the same amount of fruit.

Tested recipes for grape jelly and jam are given herewith:

Ripe Grape Jelly
4 cups (2 lbs.) juice
1-2 cups (3-4 lbs.) sugar
1-2 bottle fruit pectin.

To prepare juice, stem about 3 pounds fully ripe grapes and crush thoroughly. Add 1-2 cup water, bring to boil, cover, and simmer 10 minutes. Place fruit in jelly cloth or bag and squeeze out juice. (If Malagas or other tight-skinned grapes are used, the juice of one lemon should be added to prepared juice.)

Measure sugar and juice into large saucepan and mix. Bring to a boil over hottest fire and at once add fruit pectin, stirring constantly. Then bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard 1-2 minutes. Remove from fire, skim, pour quickly. Paraffin hot jelly at once. Makes about 11 glasses (5 fluid ounces each).

Ripe Grape Jam
4-5 cups (2-4 lbs.) prepared fruit
7 cups (3 lbs.) sugar
1-2 bottle fruit pectin.

To prepare fruit, slip skins from about 3 pounds fully ripe grapes. Simmer pulp, covered, 5 minutes. Remove seeds by sieving. Chop or grind skins and add to pulp. Add 1-2 cup water and, if desired, grated rind of 1 orange. Stir until mixture boils. Simmer, covered, 30 minutes. (Wild grapes, Malagas and other tight-skinned grapes may be stemmed, crushed whole, simmered with 1-2 cup water 30 minutes, sieved, and then measured. With tight-skinned grapes add juice of 1 lemon to water. Use 4 cups prepared fruit.)

Measure sugar and prepared fruit into large kettle, mix well, and bring to a full boil over hottest fire. Stir constantly before and while boiling. Boil hard 1 minute. Remove from fire and stir in fruit pectin. Pour quickly. Paraffin hot jam at once. Makes about 11 glasses (5 fluid ounces each).

BOLSA

BOLSA, Sept. 9. — Nick Haun and family have returned from Trabuca canyon, where they spent a week while Mr. Haun was rebuilding their cabin.

The house on Bolsa boulevard owned by Louis Bauer and recently vacated by Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Rork is being redecorated.

Mrs. Edith McMillan spent several days this week in Los Angeles as the guest of her daughter Mrs. Marie McLain.

Mr. and Mrs. George Harding and family were recent dinner guests in the home of friends, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Beem in Wintersburg.

Bolsa school opens Monday with three teachers in charge of the four lower grades.

Mrs. Lily Cosner will be teacher of the third and fourth grades; Miss Bratch of the second grade and Mrs. Mignon Waters of the first grade. All of the teachers are of last year's faculty. Miss Hill, who taught at Bolsa the past several years, is not teaching. Her marriage occurred in November of last year but was not disclosed until after the close of the school term. She resides in Hollywood.

Miss Martha Wallingford is spending a week in Santa Ana as the guest of a friend, Miss Rohrbacher.

Mr. and Mrs. Glade Fuller and son spent a day picnicking in Trabuca canyon.

Mrs. Lily Gasner and family, who have spent the summer at their home in Arizona, returned here Tuesday and are located at Silver Acres until a house can be secured in Bolsa.

Louis Bauer took a two days' vacation from Bolsa stores and with his family spent a part of the week in Long Beach.

LEGION WOMEN TO ASSIST IN SALE SATURDAY

Members of the drill team of the Santa Ana Legion Auxiliary will appear in a new role tomorrow when they take their places in a number of Santa Ana markets to have charge of special sales for Kellogg products.

The plan was worked out by representatives of the Kellogg Manufacturing company, makers of Kellogg Corn Flakes, Rice Krispies and similar products, and the drill team, and is expected to net a goodly sum for the drill team as a result of the activities of the members during the day.

Under the direction of Mrs. G. S. Sullivan, captain of the drill team, and Miss Gladys Young, secretary-treasurer, members of the team have been assigned to the various stores included in the campaign, where they will be on duty from 8 a. m. to 6 p. m. promoting interest and sale of Kellogg products.

Assignments have been made as follows:

East: Fourth Street Market, Tona Sandoz; Alpha Beta No. 2, Roberta Mercer; Alpha Beta No. 4, Ruth Jellis; Alpha Beta, West Fifth street, Ann Lelmer; Joe's Grocery, Grand Central Market, Mrs. G. C. Sullivan; Richardson's Grocery, Grand Central Market, Mrs. Venable Post; Continental Grocery, Grand Central Market, Margaret Wilson; Van's Grocery, Grand Central Market, Fleta Sands; North Main Drive-In Market, Emma Penn. Inez Halber, Ida McCarty, Myrtle Swarthout, Ruth Anderson, Mabel Thatcher, Gladys Young and Roseann Hardcastle, also will assist.

A group of the Red and White grocery stores is included in the group carrying this special.

STARS AND HEREDITY

DENVER.—Stars, as astrologers have for long claimed, may influence heredity, according to J. C. Stearns and Wilcox Overback, University of Denver physicists. This may be possible when it is considered that cosmic rays, which are thought to yield a vast influence on human life, come from the stars. X-rays have been found to influence heredity and, since cosmic rays are similar to X-rays, it is possible that they, too, influence heredity.

NOW'S THE TIME FOR PUMPKIN PIE

Perhaps of all the pies made, pumpkin is the most popular. It's almost the only variety commonly included among party refreshments and it seems such a personal kind of pie. Everybody has his own very definite and decided ideas of just what a pumpkin pie should be from color to taste.

The stewing or baking of the pumpkin is the first step in the preparation of the pie and it is a most important one. Baking is the simplest method, for the vegetable is merely cut in halves, the seeds removed and it is placed cut side down in a dripping pan and baked until tender. Then scrape from the shell and force through a ricer or colander.

To stew a pumpkin, wash and cut in narrow strips. Remove seeds and pare off yellow shell. Cut in cubes and put into a heavy aluminum or iron kettle. Add just enough water to prevent burning before pumpkin begins to cook. Cover and cook over a good fire until pumpkin is tender. Remove cover and cook over a low fire until pumpkin is dry. Stir occasionally to prevent burning.

Plain Pumpkin Pie

One cup sifted pumpkin, 3-4 cup light brown sugar, 1 tablespoon baking molasses, 1-4 teaspoon salt, 1-2 teaspoon ginger, 1-2 teaspoon cinnamon, 1 egg, 2 cups rich milk. Mix and sift flour, spices and salt and add to sugar. Mix and stir into pumpkin. Add molasses and egg slightly beaten with milk. Turn into a pie dish lined with plain pastry and bake one hour. The oven should be hot, 425 degrees F., when the pie is put in. At the end of 10 minutes reduce heat to 350 degrees F. This rule will fill an eight-inch pie pan.

Fluffy Pumpkin Pie

This pie is more "partified" and you may prefer it for guests. Use 3-4 cups sifted pumpkin, 3-4 cups sugar, 2 eggs, 1-2 cups milk, 1-2 cup cream, 1-2 teaspoon ginger, 1-2 teaspoon cinnamon, 1-4 teaspoon salt. Beat yolks of eggs with sugar, salt and spices. Add pumpkin and mix thoroughly. Add milk and cream and stir until blended. Fold in whites of eggs beaten until stiff. Turn into a pie dish lined with pastry and bake as in preceding recipe.

CALIFORNIA CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY

Today is another anniversary of the admission of California into the Union. While one may question the wisdom of having so many holidays, in which there is a suspension to a degree, of legal business, and the closing of offices, yet it is well that we have in mind the anniversary of those important events in our personal history, and in the history of our state and nation.

We are prone to forget the value of institutions. We forget the cost in treasure and in sacrifice that brought them into being. And the anniversaries of the days which mark the original event are days when we should recall the efforts of our sires, which were consummated in the institutions which we are enjoying. This is one of those days.

California has an interesting, if not a great history, prior to her annexation to the United States. It is strange to some of us who have more recently come from the Middle West, to realize that the actual history of California dates back prior to that of any state of the Union, with the exception of the 13 original colonies. But such it is. Under the dominion of Spain and of Mexico, under the guidance of the early pioneers, and under the spiritual leadership of the Mission Fathers, California's history developed, and the foundations of her institutions were laid, which have had a lasting effect, and will have for many decades to come.

And yet we are thankful that California, with New Mexico and Arizona, did not remain under the Spanish or Mexican rule. The development which has been achieved as a part of the great union of states, could only have been possible in such union. As we cross from the line of California to the Mexican line, it is as though one had traveled a thousand miles, as we note the difference in culture, in intellectual attainment and actually in the values of property. All these are due to our institutions, to our laws, and to the enterprise of those who are responsible for them.

So it is well that California, on the ninth day of each September, should keep these things in mind, and express gratitude that she is one of the great states of the American Union.

COLONEL ROBBINS DISAPPEARS

There is considerable excitement today in the news dispatches concerning the disappearance of Colonel Raymond Robbins. Foul play is feared. We cannot help believing that within a few hours it will be discovered that he is alive and in his right mind, and that there has been a very natural reason for his failure to keep the appointment at the White House last Tuesday.

Col. Robbins is a man, who, while of deep convictions, and speaking strongly on religion and political and economic problems, is one who harbors no resentment, and it is almost inconceivable that he should have personal enemies. He is an outstanding champion of peace, an outstanding champion of prohibition, and is always interested in those social agencies which tend to help the unfortunate.

It may have been possible that Colonel Robbins has been leading in some law enforcement work in his home county of Orlando, Florida, that might have aroused some antagonism, but we doubt if anything more than an accident has befallen him. He has been an able, strong and picturesque factor in our national life for over 20 years, and one who always speaks with sincerity and wisdom upon various subjects, whether religious or political. We are hopeful of hearing that he is alive and well.

A WORTHY EXAMPLE

We want to commend the new mayor of New York, Joseph V. McKee, to many officeholders throughout the country. We hear so much said about the impossibility of cutting expenses. The minute Jimmy Walker got out and McKee got in, he promptly cut down $2,000,000 in salaries, including three-eighths of his own salary. And he has already created a problem for the democratic leaders as to how to put back Mayor Walker, in the face of the economies which this temporary mayor has already put into operation.

After all, the people have the opportunities of government in their own hands. If they don't like the expense, they can see that it is cut by electing officials of that type, and on the other hand, they can elect the officials who believe that the tax route is a route that should be broadened and deepened until property itself becomes a burden.

Thoughtful men and women will keep this in mind, and will endeavor to achieve their ends at election time. Others will vote for tax-spending officials, and then, when their burdens become unbearable, they will attempt to use force, like the Iowa farmers.

FRANCE AND THE WAR DEBTS

The news now comes from Paris that France has determined that she will not pay any more war debts. This news is denied at Washington, but seems to come pretty well authenticated from Paris.

Whether or not she has reached the point where she will publicly determine that she will not pay any debts, certainly she is not paying any, and the United States is almost getting used to it. We doubt if Great Britain will ever take the position that France and Italy seem to be determined to take, and yet Great Britain may take advantage of the conditions which are created by these other two countries.

We doubt seriously whether our President, the chairman of the Foreign Relations committee of the United States Senate, or former Secretary of the Treasury Mellon believe that there will be many further payments upon any of these debts. Probably the sooner there is an agreement reached concerning them, and the nations cease to be affected for ill by the discussion of them, the better off we will be.

LOAN WILL BE GODSEND

It is expected that the Metropolitan Water District will soon have its loan of twenty million dollars from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation so as to begin long-delayed operations.

It requires considerable faith to begin operations based upon this loan, and yet it is this faith which has made the great Southwest. Inability to handle the big bond issue, because of general financial conditions, has made this loan not only imperative, but makes it a godsend to the enterprise, and to the people who will be employed.

We trust that there will be no further difficulties in the way; that the loan will be granted, and the enterprise started, so that we can enjoy that condition of mind that comes always when things are moving, and moving in the right direction.

Panama Canal Passes Milestone

Pasadena Star-News

On August 15, 1914, commercial traffic through the Panama Canal was inaugurated by the passage of the steamship Ancon, bearing the then Secretary of War, Lindley M. Garrison, and 200 guests, including the President of Panama.

The canal enters its nineteenth year of service in the midst of a period of slow business or perhaps it should be said, at the end of such a period and the beginning of better days.

As in every other field of trade and industry, transportation has been passing through an extreme low tide. However, Panama finds some reasons for rejoicing. Nineteen thirty-two has noted the postponement of the rival Nicaraguan project; and because of this there is some hope in the region of the isthmus for favorable action by Congress on $180,000,000 worth of improvements that will yield larger canal capacity, and thus remove or delay the urgency for a second waterway between the Atlantic and the Pacific.

Making for permanence of policies and operations in the Canal Zone are certain Congressional actions, such as a refusal to adopt the recommendation of the House Economy Committee for the discontinuance of the steamship service between Panama and New York which has been maintained by the government-owned Panama Railroad Steamship company since construction days. Progress also was made on the enactment of a complete criminal, civil and procedural code for the Zone.

It should not be understood that the Nicaraguan enterprise has been abandoned. The War Department, following an exhaustive study and survey of the proposition, sent to the last session of Congress a negative report on immediate construction, together with a favorable report on its engineering feasibility. That the second ditch will be dug some day may be safely predicted; but it will be necessary to await more propitious times and the complete development of facilities at Panama. The many strong points in favor of the Nicaragua route will force the opening of this canal in due course.

Gold Mining Revival

Oakland Tribune

In the mining lands of California men are looking for gold, in larger numbers, perhaps, than at any time since the great story of the rush was being written. Some of them are following the same primitive methods of the Forty-niners and know little more of mining than did the men who came from shops, fields and offices of East and Middle West to join in the frenzied hunt for wealth. In total, they are finding good quantities of the precious metal, as figures of receipts at the mint will testify.

The story of this latest rush to the creek beds and gulches is one of some relief being brought to unemployment, living wages being earned by many and disappointment coming to others. It is not, by any means, the whole tale of the present revival in gold mining interest. To read that one has but to visit the foothills, note the old mines which are being reopened, the improvements being added to others, and the increased output of the quartz mining industry. The new demands have made profitable the investment of money in workings which have been abandoned and have supplied incentive for new ventures. A result is that our mining country is an area alive with enthusiasm and hope, devoted to work and improvement. Up there where drifts are being opened and shafts sunk, men talk of discoveries and prospects.

A Reel From Real Life

More Truth Than Poetry

By James J. Montague

TO A CRICKET

From dawn till break of day you shout
What you believe is music out,
But what have YOU to sing about?

Nocturnal cats are lurking near,
And when that voice of yours they hear,
From this fair world you disappear.

The birds observe you on the lawn
When you turn in to sleep at dawn,
And in an instant you are gone.

The bat perceives you in the night,
Which never seems to dim his sight,
And with you sates his appetite.

The toad comes hopping down the lane
While you are piping your refrain
And you are numbered with the elain.

The owl careers the darkness through,
Emits a chuckling "Hoo-Hoo-Hoo!"
And promptly makes an end of you.

If you would only hold your tongue
And leave that chirp of yours unsung
You would not, while so very young

And lately nurtured in the soil,
Without a care, unvoiced to coil,
So early slough your mortal coil.

And yet unmoved by cares or doubts,
With shrill and penetrating shouts
You still proclaim your whereabouts.

But what's the use to carp and chide?
For you, I'm fully satisfied
Were born to be a suicide!

Thoughts On Modern Life

By GLENN FRANK

TOWARDS A MORAL CODE

Contemporary humanity needs again to bring its life into subjection to a moral code.

Much is said and written about the new morality.

But the truth is the "new morality" is as yet a phrase rather than a fact.

Present-day peoples the world around are living largely without a moral code.

We are wandering between two worlds:

(1) The world of the old moral code which is dead.

(2) The world of the new moral code which is not born.

I am not arguing here, when I say the old moral code is dead, that any or all of the old moral code was wrong.

I am saying simply that the masses of men and women the world around are not living under the deep sense of personal and social obligation that once held the lives of peoples in its grip.

And I am thinking of something wider than the modernism of sex freedom and synthetic gin.

The modern trend of which I speak here may be defined as follows:

(1) A sense of objective.

(2) A sense of obligation.

We shall yet see that one of the keys to the American future is a spiritual key.

Our Children

By Angelo Patri

NOT BOOKISH

There are some children who cannot do well in school. They fall again and again in spite of everything the teacher and the school can do. The parents scold and push and plead and punish and the end is the same as the beginning. The child does little or no work in school.

"Why don't you learn your lessons, Smith?"

"I don't know. I'm not good at them, I guess."

"But why don't you study?"

"Smith shrugs his shoulders and looks off into the distance, secretly hoping that you are going to stop talking about it and let him go. He hasn't an idea in the world as to why he does not learn. The whole thing is a dark mystery to him. What people can see in books or what they get out of them or why they want to do anything with them is beyond him. He can't see a thing in them."

That's the real truth. For this child books have no meaning. They call to deaf ears. They only weary the child who sees no use in them.

It is true that most children can master the fundamentals of knowledge as far as the third grade. They can read and write and handle numbers a little, enough to enable them to read the papers, the headlines at least, to count their change and to sign their names. That's about as far as they will get with books.

That does not mean that these children are useless. Far from it. They are not feeble minded either. Children who are feeble minded cannot learn from books, nor from anything else. The children I want to plead for are normal minded. They can learn outside books. They can do good work, accurate and well finished. They become useful citizens if they have a chance. My idea is to give them a chance.

Instead of making boys and girls, who dislike books and who fall in the book subjects, keep on struggling and failing with them, give them training in work they can do. Teach them useful occupations. It is not necessary for a boy, who has difficulty in learning to read books with understanding and interest, to study the complexities of English grammar. He is going to be an artisan, or a salesman. Let him study about his chosen work and let the book subjects take the minor place in his school life, as they certainly will in his adult business life. The best butcher I ever knew, he had a rare eye for a beef, could scarcely read a third grade reader, but he could and did run a successful business and rear a fine family. All the hours that the teacher spent in keeping him in after school to study declensions was that much time and energy lost.

"Poor Miss Maria, she used to hammer those nouns and verbs and things into my skull but they never reached my brain. I didn't have that kind of brain. Not me. I was just a butcher, see, and what good was all that to me? Only made me run away."

Books have their place, and it is a big one. But there are children for whom they have no meaning. Give them the experiences that will take the place of the books in their lives and you will be doing something worth while for them and your country.

ALLIED ADVANCE SLACKENS

On Sept. 9, 1918, the great German retreat from the positions won in their spring offensives was virtually complete and fighting was principally of a local nature, with only minor objectives.

British forces advanced on a four-mile front south of Havincourt wood, taking positions which dominated the wood they had taken the previous day. On other sectors of the British front, activity was confined to trench raids and minor gains.

An American advance which had been rapidly developing near St. Gobain was practically stopped by several German reserve divisions.

French troops reported minor gains across the Crozat canal.

The westbound Canadian liner Missanable was torpedoed in the Atlantic.
